MR. HAAS'S LETTER WHICH HE SAYS HE DID NOT WRITE

BUT THE N. C. AND ST. L. SAYS HE DID.

Mr. Hass Is Given a Chance to Vindicate Himself-Mr. Joseph M. Brown Will Neither Affirm Nor Deny.

The part that the Terminal company is playing in the increase in the freight rate on coal could be very easily solved if the records of the Western and Atlantic railroad, which, it is said, hold some very interesting correspondence from the Richmond and Danville on this subject, could be

It will be remembered that THE CONSTI-TUTION published a lively special several days ago from Chattanooga, in which it was shown that the Richmond and Danville had insisted on the Western and Atlantic making an increase in their coal rate, which was refused by the latter.

Wednesday's Constitution contained a telegram from Mr. Sol Haas, emphatically denying that he had written anything to the Western and Atlantic railroad, or any other railroad anywhere else, concerning or suggesting an increase in the coal rates.

This brought forth a spicy interview with a prominent official of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis, which appeared in our Nashville correspondence yesterday.

When it is taken into consideration that the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis is the lessee of the Western and Atlantic, it is to be presumed that the interview was based on accurate data.

THE CONSTITUTION is determined that Mr. Haas shall have every opportunity to put himself straight in the matter, for it would not for the world misrepresent him. Mr. Brown To Mum.

A reporter of THE CONSTITUTION called on Mr. Joseph M. Brown, traffic manager of the Western and Atlantic railroad, at his office yesterday, for the purpose of ascertaining whether he had received from Mr. Haas, traffic manager of the Richmond and Danville railroad, any letter on the subject of raising the coal rates.

Mr. Brown remarked, "I really prefer no to say anything on this subject, either affirmatively or negatively."

"Well, do you intend to raise the local rates of the Western and Atlantic railroad in order to secure the proposed advance of coal rates?"

"We do not intend," said Mr. Brown, "to advance our local rates on coal." Beyond this statement Mr. Brown re quested to be excused from saying anything the subject. In Communication with Mr. Haas. The following telegram was sent Mr.

Haas yesterday by THE CONSTITUTION: ATLANTA, Ga., July 2, 1891.—Mr. Sol Haas, Traffic Manager Richmond and Danville Railroad, Rich-mond, Va.: A Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis official interviewed in our Nashville spe-Louis official interviewed in our Nashville spe-cial says your letter asking for an increase in the boal rate is on record, and it must have escaped your memory or is a forgery. MR. HAAS'S REPLY, in Which the Question at Issue Is Not Dis-To the above telegram of THE CONSTI-UTION Mr. Haas replied last night. As will be seen, he does not meet the

In his first telegram to THE CONSTITU-TION he denied having written to the Western and Atlantic, or any other road urging an increase in the coal rate. That telegram was sent in reply to a query of THE CONSTITUTION, conveyed through Mr. McCleskey, the efficient Richmond and Danville division agent at this point. In this query THE CONSTITUTION stated to Mr. Haas that our Chattanooga special charged the Terminal system with having urged the Western and Atlantic to increase the coal rate, and that it had been refused. We did not say that the urging had been done since April, for the rate against which we are now protesting is the one that went into effect in March. The question is, did Mr. Haas endeavor to have the Western and Atlantic raise the coal rate to the extortionate figures as an

Mr. Haas's telegram does not deal with that. It is as follows:

RICHMOND, Va., July 2.—Editor Constitution Your note, as wired me yesterday by Mr. Mc-Cleskey, indicated that we had asked to increase the present one-dollar-and-twenty-five-cent rate from the mines to Atlanta, which rate had been agreed to some time in April by all the roads. To this I replied denying that any such request had been made. Upon discovering that some of the lines had agreed to charge a higher rate from th mines than the rate from the mines to Boyce, plus the rate from Boyce to Atlanta, it became obvious that either these lines would have to increase their local rate or that the through rate would have to be reduced. This they were requested to do. From your telegram of today, I take it that one line at least has not been maintaining the rate line at least has not been maintaining the rate they had us to believe they were using, towit: $1.25 from the mines to Atlanta.

If the inquiry you make has reference to an request of ours, advancing the rate from the mines to Atlanta above $1.25, I say any informa mines to Attains above 2012, 1 and 1 and 1 ion you have to that effect is untrue. If you mean that we were trying to put ourselves in a position to charge the same rates as our competitors, rather by having the one dollar and twenty-five cent rate maintained, or by reducing that rate, I say that this is corre

Many false rumors arise from the fact that the public did not know how sick he was in New York. Since his sickness there he has steadily improved. Any drawbacks have been for not more than a day or two in duration. His physician here is Dr. Taylor, a specialist in nervous diseases, who was recommended to Mr. Blaine by his daughter, Mrs. Emmons

Dr. Taylor says his patient eats well, sleeps well, has no organic disorder and is rapidly recovering his usual health. He takes no remedies to regulate digestion. He has had no trace of the paralytic affection from which he suffered three years ago. The principal benefit this physician can render him is to enurage and tell him what to do. Mr. Blaine gets despondent with himself. His sickness in New York was the result of overwork, combined with la grippe. Not-withstanding the statements of his physician and the strenuous denials of members of his family, many people here believe Mr. Blaine to be broken down; that he will never again engage in active life, yet it is evident to every one that he has improved since his arrival and Steamship Associa New York, July 2.—[Special.]—It is stated in rallroad circles here that Hon. Joseph E. Brown has announced his determination of resigning the presidency of the Southern Railway and Steamship Association.

SENATOR BROWN RESIGNS

The Presidency of the Southern Railway

Senator Brown has been president of the ssociation since its formation. His adminis tration of the affairs of the association has, of course, been highly satisfactory to the mem-ners, and his determination to resign was bers, and his determination to resign was widely discussed today.

Senator Brown resigns, it is understood, because he is no longer connected with any road. The feeling here is strong that he should be urged to reconsider his resignation. The association meets here next week.

They Received Their Checks.

NEW YORK, July 2.—Holders of sugar trust certificates received checks for their dividends today, although payment was enjoined yesterday by Judge Barnard. The checks came by mail from Jersey City, and were drawn on the Western National bank. Many of the parties receiving checks presented them at once at the bank, but after $50,000 had been paid an injunction was served on the bank restraining it from paying any more. The amount called for by the dividends is $1,550,000.

BARDSLEY'S SENTENCE.

Fifteen Years in Solitary Confinement and Heavy Fine.

PHILADELPHIA, July 2.—Ex-City Treasurer John Bardsley was sentenced this morning by Judge Wilson to fifteen years solitary confinement in the Eastern penitentiary, and to pay a fine equaling the sum to which he pleaded guilty.

The fact that Bardsley would come up for sentence today was not generally known, so that when District Attorney Graham arose to address the court and ask that sentence passed upon the prisoner, there were not more than fifty people in the courtroom. The district attorney spoke but briefly, but in the course of his address he denied Bardsley's contention, week ago, that the ex-treasurer had not misappropriated a dollar. Graham showed that appropriated a dollar. Graham showed that by Bardsley's own statement he must have at least misappropriated $220,000, as that amount was required to be made good by his sureties, according to their bond to the state and city. Graham practically admitted that Bardsley's declaration that he placed $945,000 in the Keystone bank, taking due bills for the money, was true, and that the money was deposited in the bank.

APPEALING FOR MERCY. Alexander, counsel for Bardsley, reviewed statements made by his client and appealed to the court for mercy, on the ground of Bardsley's plea of guilty and his past services to the city. Alexander said that Bardsley did not get a dollar of the money he put in the Keystone bank, and that within six months it would be shown who did.

Mr. Alexander vehemently declared that his client has not stolen a dollar, but that he only client has not stolen a dollar, but that he only plead guilty to the statutory offenses of loaning, speculating with and receiving interest on public funds. Never, with his consent, said Alexander, should Bardsley appear before the investigating committee of councils to testify, but if at any time the district attorney desired any information or assistance, his client was willing to aid him.

With the exception of his brother-in-law, not one of the hundreds of friends that Bardsley had a year ago were present when he arose to receive the sentence of the court.

District Attorney Graham places the deficit

District Attorney Graham places the deficit at $553,815.38, which is $38,000 more than Bardsley admitted in his own statement. This amount will be reduced by payments to be made by his sureties so the amount of the fine will not be determined until after the examination of the accounts shall be finished.

annals of the county. The canvass has been one of great thorough ness and enthusiasm, but has been conducted without bitterness or discord, leaving no scars upon the face of the body politic. Both sides entered upon the poll ground this morning with confidence of strength and fully believing that victory would perch upon their banners. At 7 o'clock the polls opened in Athens at the courthouse and the prohibitionists took the lead. For three hours they heavily outvoted the antis, and for awhilelit looked like the county was going dry by over five hundred majority.

An ardent prohibitionist wagered $250 with an enthusiastic anti that the county would go dry. The bet was mutually de clared off shortly after the polls closed, when things began to get so badly

The antis never ceased to work, how ever, and kept up a steady lick throughout the day. The prohis also kept a lively move on things, and ran neck and neck with the antis to the finish. EARLY RETURNS FROM THE COUNTRY.

At 4 o'clock the prohis from Puryear's district came driving into town with a large banner upon which was printed in large letters:

"Puryear's district, 66 dry majority." This raised at once a howl among the rohibitionists, who made the welkin ring. Then came the news from Buck Branch district, and it told of a prohibition maority of 51. Then Sandy Creek re enforced it with 9 majority dry.

Dry stock went up very high. Then Bradberry's came in with 25 wet majority, and Georgia Factory added 38 wet Imajority, followed with Princeton, 22, and Kenney's with 17.

This brought the prohis into the city with a majority of 24. It had all narrowed down to a fight over the Athens precinct. The antis took new hope and pressed onward. The prohis rushed all over town after voters, and worked on and on, backed by the prayers of many of the good women of Athens, who all day long had been praying at the Methodist church.

COUNTING THE ATHENS VOTE. At 6 o'clock the polls closed, and the counting out commenced.

The managers of the polls were Messrs. W. D. Griffith, W. H. Fuller and J. M.

victory. The crowd went wild, hats flew in the air, and men rushed to each other to shake hands and congratulate each other.

The great fight was over, and the prohibitionists had won. Being called by the crowd, Captain W. B. Burnett, a prominent anti, made a ringing and manly speech, in which he stated that no bitterness rankled in his heart towards any man, and that Clarke county had demonstrated to the world that s prohibition campaign can be carried through without discord or discussion. His speech was tumultuously applauded. Colonel Tinsley W. Rucker, in behalf of the prohis, made a short and pleasant speech, in which he said many kind words for the opposition, and then the crowd broke up. It will row morning upon a people united again and ready to carry Athens forward to a grand future. Throughout the weeks of exciting canvass and animated discussion, each side has exhibited remarkable charity of feeling towards the other, and has demonstrated to the world, what has hitherto been thought to be impossible, that a prohibition fight can be carried through to the finish without quarreling and discord and bitterness.

Upon the face of the body politic no scars will be left to disfigure, and in the hearts of the people no malice will rankle against those who opposed. At the very start of the campaign The Banner announced that it would be hands-off in the fight; that it was a question to be settled by the opinions of the citizens; that what in their judgment was the best law should be voted, and that a conservative position upon the question at issue would be the best.

the best law should be voted, and that a conservative position upon the question at issue would be the best.

From that position The Banner has never varied. Its advertising columns were thrown open to each side, and the prohibitionists have patronized them more than the law and order party. Every line that touched upon the question one way or the other has been charged for at advertising rates. At the close of the campaign we say we are gratified at the good feeling displayed on all sides, and feel that whichever way it may go, Athens will not lose the efforts of any of her good citizens. In a few hours the fight will be over.

And then all together for Athens.

To these free gifts from the Jews loans succeeded in due course of time, and it transpired in February last that the vice regal court of — soow, presided over by Prince Dolgoroukoff, was overwhelmed with debt to wealthy Jews of Moscow and elsewhere.

Affairs seem to have reached a climax when, owing possibly to his leniency, dy—to the fact that he owed the Jews so much—y, Prince Dolgoroukoff, instead of exercising severity against the Jews, allowed them to construct a bath near the cathedral of Moscow. The czar's indignation at this action upon the part of his confidential friend, the governor of Moscow, is said to have been boundless, and Prince Dolgoroukoff's enemies are said not to have been slow in taking advantage of the czar's change of feeling toward the prince, and some time later explanations were demanded of the prince.

These explanations do not seem to have satisfied the czar, for, shortly afterward, the prince was relieved of his duties as governor of Moscow, and Grand Duke Sergius, brother of the czar, was appointed governor of Moscow in the place of the disgraced prince. The latter seems to have left Russis some time later, and to have died practically in exile in Paris, as announced today.

STORMS IN GERMANY.

STORMS IN GERMANY.

Life.

Berlin, July 2.—A terrible storm of thunder, hail and rain passed over a large part of Germany last night, causing immense damage to property and loss of life in the vilages of Suchtellon, near Duesseldorf, and Sittard, in Crefeld district, also near Duesseldort.

Many houses were completely wrecked and the inmates buried in the ruins. Thirteen bodies have already been recovered. Are pioneers have been sent to aid in the work rescue. It is yet too soon to form any esti-mate of the total number of lives lost. At Brunswick the storm assumed the proportion of a cyclone, and the inhabitants report last night as being one of the most terrible in their

from the Camps. CHICKAMAUGA, Ga., July 2.—[Special.]— dovernor Northen reviewed the Ninth regiment this afternoon. The feature of the re-view was the absence of a band; otherwise it was "jamb up." Every effort was made to secure music, but without success.

The members of the governor's staff accompanying him were: Colonel Kell, Colonel Waring, Colonel Broughton and Colonel Switt. The first part of the review was formed in division of three battalions commanded by Colonel Yancey, Captain Field and Major Smith respectively, with Colonel Jones in-command of the division. Too much in praise of the troops for proficiency in evolution cannot be said. Governor Northen was highly pleased and the spectators delighted. The men of the Ninth regiment are of the sort of material that true soldiers are made. When they leave Camp Chickamauga they will leave an enviable record behind them for gentlemanly conduct and earnest military en-

Discussing the Shortage. Reports that the appropriation has run short and that Atlanta and Augusta week will not pan out, or at least be postponed, have created quite a stir here. General disappointment is expressed and everybody hopes that matters may all come out right.

Governor Northen said to me this afternoon that nothing definite in regard to the extent of the consumption of the appropriation could be told yet, as Quartermaster General West had not reported the situation. Colonel West will, however, make his statement to the governor however, make his statement to the governor tomorrow morning, and the fate of next week's encampment will be at once settled. Governor Northen says he believes there is little doubt as to the carrying out of the full stay of the encampment, though a shortage in the appropriation, if such turns out to be the case, may cause a little delay. The exact status of affairs will be made known tomorrow by the governor.

Adjutant General Kell candidly says he Adjutant General Kell candidly says he does not believe the encampment can be held next week, but has confidence in relief from the legislature as soon as it convenes. If next week's encampment is postponed it will undoubtedly create some confusion. All arrangements have been made by the troops coming and the chances are that many men who can come next week would not be able to come letter on.

A majority of the companies, however, wear the regulation fatigue, which, though plain blue and white, is by long odds the handsomest thing in the way of dress that comes to pamp.

TALKS ABOUT THE DECISION OF SECRETARY NOBLE.

The Visit of the Georgia Comm Him at Washington-The Plans Dis-cussed-What Will Be Done.

SAVANNAH, Ga., July 2.—[Special.]—Referring to Secretary Noble's decision, Hon. Peter W. Meldrim, chairman of the special commission in charge of the colored branch college said to Tark College. college, said to THE CONSTITUTION correspondent today: "Judge Hammond, the sec-retary of the commission, and myself accom-panied by Dr. White, of the Athens university, went to Washington some days ago for an in-terview with Secretary Noble. We found him a delightful gentleman, thoroughly courteous and willing to enter into a thorough discussion of the disposition of the fund coming to Geor gia. We were frank in our statements and found the secretary equally so. Both sides were determined to do what was for the best and at the conclusion of the interview, we made a formal request of the interview, we made a formal request that the money be turned over to the state, with the understanding that it should be dis-tributed so that the colored people would re-ceive an equitable share of the benefits accru-ing from it, the exact manner of the distri-bution to be left to the trustees of the State

"The proposition met with a favorable response from the secretary. In its proposition the commissioners were guided by the fact that in the beginning to the branch college existence it may not, and probably will not, require as much money as it will later on, when it is in running order and has a large number of pupils eurolled. The commission will accordingly draw on the funds for just what; money is needed, both at this time and hereafter.

Ozark, Ala., July 2.—[Special.]—Deputy Campbell brought from Geneva yesterday a negro named Harry Desmakes, charged with killing his wife, and lodged him in jail here until court meets in that county.

Harry was enamored with another woman, and he had repeatedly said he would get rid of his wife. On last Thursday night, after they had retired, he got his pistol and shot her in the neck, the ball ranging downward in her chest. She died without a struggle.

The shooting created considerable indignation among the negroes in the community, and tried in several ways to get him so as to lynch him. Harry denies the charge, and says

A CHURCH DISCUSSION

WHICH IS SURE TO PROVE AN INTERESTING ONE.

The Novel Proposition Made by an Annistor ized Form of Baptism.

Anniston, Ala., July 2 .- [Special.]-The following communication appears in The Christian Standard, published in Cincinnati, and explains itself. We are likely to have a the parties named are among our best people and mean business. The following is the full text of the controversy so far as given in The

The following is a rather unusual offer, and one, I predict, that shall develop much interest in an old, much-written-about subject. The offer grew out of a private conversation between the persons

"Anniston, Ala., May 18, 1891.-1 hereby offer "ANNISTON, Ala., May 18, 1891.—1 nereby oner one thousand dollars ($1,000) for conclusive evidence that immersion is taught as Christian baptism—that is, as the only form of Christian baptism taught by the Bible. The judges shall be composed of five clergymen of the Protestant Episcopal church, to be chosen by me, and five men to be chosen by Dr. E. C. Anderson.

For the benefit of your many thousand readers, I will say that R. P. Huger, who makes this very remarkable challenge, is a leading member of the Protestant Episcopal church in this city, a lea ing physician of the state and ex-Mayor of Annis ton. Dr. Huger is a man of honor, and we believe that he is thoroughly in earnest in the matter, though we surmise that he would have never made the offer had he been better posted upon the controversy about baptism.

Dr. E. C. Anderson is a practicing physician in this city, a deacon in the Christian church, superintendent of the Sunday school, and a very zealou and successful church worker.

We do not intend that this challenge shall go unaccepted, and hereby give notice that we accept it, and that in due time it shall be met. Our plan is to select one of our ablest and most scholarly men and put the matter into his hands. All arrangements will be announced as soon as

It is due the case to make this additional explanation: Actuated by a desire to have sides represented, so that the question wou more thoroughly tested, which would be fair and right, the writer, through Dr. E. C. Anderson, proposed a debate between representative men from either side. To this came the reply that a clergyman of the Protestant Episcopal church would not condescend to debate with us. This may mean either of these things: 1. That no Protestant Episcopal clergyman would condescend to engage in a religious controversy; or, 2, would not debate so trivial a subject as the action would not decate so trivial a subject as the action of baptism; or, 3, that no clergyman of the Pro-testant Episcopal church would condescend to de-bate with one of our preachers. If the first is intended, I have this to say: There is about as much controversy going on within the folds of the Protestant Episcopal church as in any other de-nomination, as witness New York and Boston now. If the second is meant, why pay a thousand dol-lars for a trifle? If the third, then I would say that out of a membership more than double his in the United States, we can surely find a man worthy of his steel. The reason given does not seem at all sufficient. After this refusal, we suggested that the ten judges pro-vided for be allowed the privilege of choosing another, so as to insure a decision; but this was also declined. Now, I have but one more suggestion to make, and that is that a leading paper of both churches concerned publish the offer, together with a faithful history of the case, the arguments brought to bear, and the final decision of the matter. Will this also be declined? We shall see, and hereby call the especial attention of

The Living Church to this matter.

We have in our possession the names of the Episcopal judges selected, and will publish these, together with our own, at an early date. A. R. MOORE.

THE MUCH DISCUSSED CORONERSHIP. The Case Will Come Up for Hearing Before

Judge Roney. Augusta, Ga., July 2.-[Special.]-Judge Picquet this morning asked that an alternate mandamus be issued requiring Judge Eve to order an election for coroner. The superior court judge issued a rule nisi requiring the county or city court judge to appear before him on the 10th day of July, to show cause why an election should not be held for the office of coroner. This step satisfies Judge Picquet, and he is confident that he can estab by law the correctness of his position Judge Eve will, of course, answer the rule and submit his opinion, which he delivered upon a review of Judge Picquet's petition, which was at first presented to him.

Eve maintains that his position in refusing to call an election to fill the office of coroner is right and will be sustained by law.

In the meantime Mr. Walter A. Clark is filling the office of coroner by appointment of Judge Eve, and is discharging the duties im-posed upon him by virtue of the office. This promises to be a sensational case and one that ing to the public.

Just as his train was pulling out of that place the rear end of the sleeper was bruised up and the glasses knocked out with rocks and cinders weighing about half a pound each. Captain Orendorf can give no reason for the attack, but it is supposed it was pure meanness in the parties. The captain pure meanness in the parties, and if hit would pure meanness in the parties. BRABHAM NO MORE.

THE CHARLOTTE MURDERER PAYS THE PENALTY.

Graphic Story uf the Execution inal in North Carolina.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., July 2 - [Special.]-The career of Henry W. Brabham, the sport, gambler and murderer, ended on the gallows in the county jail in this city this morning. At the very last moment he concluded not to die with a lie on his lips, and caused it to be announced from the scaffold that he it was who really killed John B. Mocca. There had been no doubt in the ninds of our people of his guilt, and they took his confession as a matter to have been

It was a hot July day, and the sun beat down pitilessly upon the gray walls of the jail. Waves of heat radiated from the building and from the streets as THE CON-STITUTION reporter arrived at the scene. The street in the vicinity of the jail was packed with a curious crowd, both blacks and whites standing in the sweltering sun. Deputy Sheriff Bisaner stood at the en trance to the jailyard to see that none except those privileged should enter.

Inside the jail Sheriff Smith was busily aranging the details of the execution, and the vestibule and reception rooms were filled with crowd patiently waiting for the doors to be thrown open to admit them into the corridor before the execution was to take place. In the meantime a preacher was talking with Brabham, a barber was shaving him and a doctor was patching the wound over his eye made in his encounter with the sheriff a few nights ago.

At twenty minutes to 11 o'clock the doors wer thrown open and the crowds surged into the It was the largest crowd ever admitted to a hanging there. They packed the walk-way around the three tiers of cells, and filled the south corridor, in which the gallows was erected. Brabham was confined in a cell on the north corridor

It was not a pleasant sight to look upon as one entered the place of execution. The crossbeam with its dangling noose, under which was a small platform mounted by a pair of steps, occupied the center of the south cor-In a corner facing the gallows, and in full view of the condemned, was set on end

Alston, the colored rector of St. Michael's chapel. entered his cell and had a brief talk with him. Then the procession was formed to the gallows. Rev. Mr. Alston and the sheriff followed and mounted the gallows. As Brabham stood with the noose daugling by his side the preacher read a prayer. The silence side the preacher read a prayer. The silence was absolutely unbroken save by the preacher's voice.

At the conclusion of the prayer the minister made a few remarks at the request of the condemned man. He said that Brab ham had just made a confe said that he was guilty of the deed. "He also requests melto warn his friends," continued the preacher, "to beware of gambling and drinking, and to profit by the example he is affording

As Brabham stood upon the gallows he pre-As Brabnam stood upon the gallows he pre-sented a picture of complete self-control. He stood firmly and immovable, and not a muscle trembled. As the preacher concluded his re-marks the sheriff slipped the noose over Brabham's neck and adjusted the black cap over his head.

"Goodbye," some one in the crowd called to Brabham while this was being done. "Good-bye," he responded, in a low tone. "Pray for bye," he responded, in a low tone. "Pray for me while I am going."

The nose and hood being adjusted, the sheriff and his deputies descended from the platform. The steps were removed, and then the crowd saw a solitary hooded figure standing alone on the trap. The doctors had out their watches. Suddenly there was a gleam of steel as a hatchet swirled through the air and descended upon the rope that supported the trap. Like a flash the supports fell from under Brabham's feet, his body darted downward for a distance of four feet, when the slack in the rope was taut. His head flew to one side, his body swirled around once or twice, then there was a great tremor throughout his frame, there was a great tremor throughout his frame, as if it was being shaken by a violent chill. His legs drew up and then straightened out limply. His breast heaved perceptibly a dozen or more times, and the murder of Mocca was avenged.

The trap was sprung at ten minutes to 11 o'clock, and in nine minutes his pulse had ceased beating, and in eleven and a half minutes from the time of the drop he was pronounced dead. His neck was not broken by the fall, and he died of strangulation. Brabham's body was embalmed by Undertaker Harry, and was shipped on this afternoon's train to Bamberg, S. C., Brabham's old home. The crime for which Brabham was executed was committed last April. He eptered the small store of an Italian named Mocca, where, calling for a glass of cider, he drew out a car small store of an Italian named Mocca, where, calling for a glass of cider, he drew out a car coupling pin, concealed under his coat, and dealt a death-blow while Mocca's back was turned drawing cider. This occurred at 11 o'clock at night, and Brabham today said he had the pin concealed under his coat from 4 colock in the wavelength of the pin concealed under his coat from 4 o'clock in the previous afternoon awaiting his Great Preparations Being Made for That In-teresting Event. EATONTON, Ga., July 2.—[Special.]—Great are the preparations being made for the coit show and races of the Georgia Trotting Horse Breeders' Association, to take place in Eaton-Breeders' Association, to take place in Eatonton on the Putnam county race track tomorrow. Up to date there are twenty-five or thirty fine colts stalled on the grounds, and a good many more to arrive. Five races will take place during the day for tempting purses. To accommodate people from along the line of the Middle Georgia and Atlantic and Central railroads convenient schedules have been announced and greatly reduced rates offered. Colonel Livingston, of the Georgia State Alliance, will be present, and will address the people on the subtreasury bill. A regular old-fashioned barbecue will be served on the ground, and, in short, a big time is anticipated.

They Want St. Simon's. Brunswick, Ga., July 2.—[Special.]—Several parties are negotiating with a view to securing the management of Hotel St. Simon's for the balance of the season. The plum is worth the picking, and several telegrams, asking the owners to defer awarding the management for a day or two, have been received. Prominent among the applicants is Joe Wallace, of Brunswick.

The Old Board Re-Elected. BRUNSWICK, Ga., July 2.—[Special.]—The city council met last night to elect a new board of health, the old one having resigned in a body because the council restricted their powers. On motion, the entire old board was re-elected. Alderman Ullman in nominating the old board said that by electing them the council would admit they were in the wrong, while if the old board accepted they would also admit an error on their part. It is not thought that the old board will accept their election.

Yesterday was a big day in Effingham county, and late last night the following dispatch was received at this office:

GUYTON, Ga., July 2.—[Special.]—In alliance circles it has been a red letter day in old Effingham. The annual dinner was given at Springfield today, and by invitation Congressman Watson was made the orator. President Tarver, in a speech, introduced Mr. Watson, who was greeted by the applause of an immense crowd.

He soon warmed up to his work, and taking the Ocala platform as his subject, he discoursed eloquently upon the just demands made for reform. He soon captured the crowd and held them spellbound for one and a half heurs amidst roars of laughter and loud applause. Seldom has is been the pleasure of the people of Effingham to listen to one who so completely captured both the old and the young.

Apoplexy—A sweet Life.

Macon, Ga., July 2.—[Special.]—Thousands of Georgians personally know Professor S. P. Sanford, the able and popular mathematician of Macon university, and they all know him by reputation and will sympathize deeply with him in the sudden death of his wife. Mrs. Sanford had gone to Montezuma to visit her daughter, Mrs. Cheves. She was in apparently good health. At breakfast yesterday morning, she was in excellent spirits, but she was suddenly stricken with apoplexy, and by 12 o'clock noon, the saintly woman was dead. The remains have been brought to Macon, and they will be buried tomorrow morning from the First Baptist church.

Mrs. Sanford was born in Boston, Mass. Her maiden name was Dickerman. She was seventy-two years old. When very young she became a resident of Penfield, Ga., where she met Professor Sanford and married him fifty-one years ago. On the removal of Mercer university to Macon about twenty years ago she and Professor Sanford also took up their abode here. She was admired and esteemed by all who knew her. The married life of Professor and Mrs. Sanford has been beautiful and full of love, peace and contentment. Their devotion to each other through more than a half century of connubial bliss more than a half century of connubial bliss has been the delightful theme of every tongue that knew them lanta—The Account from Augusta.

The Constitution yesterday contained an account of the leaving of a three-monthsold mulatto baby at the home of Emma Young, who lives in Augusta.

The special stated that the baby was left by an unknown white girl, who was evidently its mother, the girl telling some people that she was from Greensboro, but that she had been a wet nurse in Atlanta, when, on the death of the mother, she adopted the child.

when, on the death of the mother, she adopted the child.

In Augusta yesterday the investigation was continued, and the mother was found. She gave her name as Minnie Miller, and said she came from West End, Atlanta, where two of her sisters lived. The Augusta story says:

"Augusta, Ga., July 2.—[Special.]—The mother of the mulatto child which was left with Emma Young yesterday has been found. She said that her name was Minnie Miller, and that she was from West End, Atlanta, where two of her sisters now live. She acknowledged, too, that the father of the child was a negro, who accomplished his fiendish object with the aid of a big knife. The girl wept bitterly during the examination, and said that while she didn't want to kill the child, she feit that she would have to get rid of it in some way, as with it along she could neither get work nor board. Her idea in leaving it with the colored woman, she says, was to put it out of harm's way, and then work for the money with which to support it. It was sad to watch the mental sufferings the girl underwent. This morning, by consent of Judge Eve, the baby was given to the negrees, and the mother of the child was allowed to go."

Last night, after the telegram came, a thorough investigation was made by The Constitution. It developed the fact that no such person as Minnie Miller is known. The police force of Atlanta or West End have no knowledge of her.

A BIG TAX RETURN.

THE WASH COLLIER LAND VALUED BY ARBITRATION.

Mr. Armistead Dissatisfied with the Value Mr. Lowndes Settle It.

There seems to be quite a difference of opinion as to the value of the Wash Collier land anywhere around the city—and is famous as the "dead line." It lies just outside the city limits, and consists of 650 acres of woodland, fronting 800 feet on Peachtree and West Peachtree.

This body of land was returned to the Tax Receiver Armistead would not receive

Mr. Phil Harralson was selected to repres the county, and Colonel George W. Adair acted for Mr. Collier.

These gentlemen could come to no agreement, but differed widely in their opinions as Colonel Adair thought $125 per acre a liberal return for the property. Mr. Harralson valued it at $426 per acre. This he thought a

They decided to select a third man, and agreed on Mr. George S. Lowndes. After a thorough examination into the matter, this gentleman agreed with Mr.

The result was that yesterday the property was handed in to the tax receiver at $275,000. This is close on to four hundred and twentyfive dollars per acre.

This will make quite a difference in the taxes of last year and this. There is no appeal; these figures r .st be accepted. Colonel Adair when approached on the subject said:

"This price is an extortion-an outrage. Why, there is no body of 600 acres of land in the state of Georgia that is assessed as high as $100 per acre. Land around the city, such as that of Oak Grove and Collin's districts, will average in assessment $8 and $10 per acre. Fifty acres of this Collier Collier property front on Peachtree—this, I think, worth this price; the balance certainly is not. It runs back to Peachtree creek, is rough and of little value-nothing like the amount assessed."

Mr. Harralson, when asked his opinion, said: "The land is worth every cent of $425 per acre. If put on the market it would far ex-Mr. Collier cared to sell I would bring him a purchaser tomorrow at $500 per acre. Land further out, on the same street, sold a few days ago for $60 per front foot, and that just this side at $100. I think $275,000 a moderate value at which to return the property."

Mr. George S, Lowndes, the third man, when called on was found to be very sick and could see no one.

Mr. Wash Collier is out of the city, and up to this writing knows nothing of the decision of the arbitrators.

Work on the Lines.

The work on the different lines now in pro cess of construction is progressing rapidly.
Work on the Whitehall street line has reached Fair street, where the line crosses the line to Fort McPherson, and would be ready for the cars to start running by Sunday if the crossing were here.

"When will the cars be running?" General Manager Bettis was asked.

"Well," he replied, "I can hardly say.
The line would be ready as far as Fair street Sunday if the switch was here. I received a telegram from Johnstown, Pa., today, stating that it had been shipped and will arrive in a few days, and cars will be put on the line at once."

Work has begun on the Marietta street line also, and the old street car track is being torn up and the new track put down. To Ponce de Leon. The new line to Ponce de Leon has been completed to the Boulevard. Cars come from there into the city over the Boulevard to Pine, across Pine to Courtland, and thence around by way of Linden avenue into the city. Rails are being received daily to go on the new Since March 17th last, the Atlanta Consolidated Street Railway Company has spent $90,000 in Atlanta on construction afone.

Manager Bettis is getting estimates for a carhouse to hold thirty new cars, for repair shops, machine shops, and an increase from 450 to 1,000-horse power at the Fulton county plant. The company has given the Pullman company the contract for the construction of twenty handsome open cars of the finest description. The first six have been shipped. The others will be shipped as they are finished.

The motors, tracks and generators come from the Thomson-Houston company at Boston, and the work on them is being pushed forward rapidly, and they will be shipped as soon as possible.

The builders at Johnstown are at work on the network of switches which is to be placed as the second tracts.

The builders at Johnstown are at work on the network of switches which is to be placed on Broad street across Marietta. This switch cost $7,000 alone. It is an intricate piece of workmanship, as it has to be so arranged that cars coming from any direction to where the street cross can branch off on any of the different lines centering there. Music at Ponce de Leon Sunday.

There will be music in the air around Ponce de Leon Sunday. The company will have finished by Saturday the new music pavilion, which seats sixty musicians, and on Sunday the first concert will be given at Ponce de A half dozens are lights have been placed at ATLANTA, GA., JULY 3, 1891.

Undermining Atlanta Industry.

We call special attention to the interviews of Mr. Elias Haiman and Mr. William E. Austin in today's Constitu-TION. They show that the railroads are undermining Atlanta industry by discriminations which are so flagrant that they amount to a conspiracy against the prosperity of the city. It is almost incredible that Georgia corporations, owing their existence to the state and enjoying special privileges which other roads cannot claim, should deliberately put into effect a system of rates which, if continued, will hand over to manufacturing cities outside the state a large part of the business which naturally comes to Atlanta. If every other consideration could be forgotten, it is incredible that business men should deliberately pursue a policy which is sure to undermine the prosperity and retard the development of the region through which their roads run, and the cities which contribute most to their revenues.

Such a policy is as suicidal as it is unjust. It is in open violation of law and vigorous measures to apply the law's penalty will soon be set in motion. But the matter will not end there. These extortionists will be exceedingly fortunate if they do not have to meet far more serious trouble than the existing laws are likely to give them.

Independent Silver Talk.

Some of the western republican senators are determined to have free silver coinage if they have to bolt their party.

According to a Denver special in The New York Herald, Senator Teller declares himself against Harrison in a three-column interview, and strongly intimates that he will support a free silver democrat in preference to an anti-free coinage republican.

The interview concludes as follows: If the gold monometallists think they can afford to abandon their political principles and parties and make the question of a single gold standard the great question in the political field in the near future, we will accept their challenge and in-scribe on our banner: "The unlimited coinage of gold and silver; a sufficiency of money with which to do the business of the country; good money gold and silver money; internati money of the fathers; paper money interchangea-ble for goldland silver." And beneath that we be or goldand silver. And beneath that we will write: "Equal opportunity for the rich and poor alike; equal privileges to all, special privileges to none." And in my judgment it will not be a doubtful issue, for the right, as it always has when intelligently presented, will triumph over wrong. And little need we care what name is given to the men who rally around that banner, and who carry the principles thereon inscribed into the daily administration of national affairs. In an interview published the same day, Senator Wolcott takes equally advanced ground in favor of free silver.

Now, this is significant. Senator Teller is an old republican. He has been honored time and again by his party, and was only recently re-elected. He was a cabinet officer under Arthur. His record, his affiliations and his political interests are thoroughly republican, and yet, rather than see free silver defeated, he wilk turn his back on his party and vote for a free silver democrat. His colleague, Senator Wolcott, is a younger man, but he is willing to risk his future on the free silver issue.

It will be noted that Senator Teller already talks like a sound democrat. In addition to the unlimited coinage of gold and silver, he wants more money, good money, paper money interchangeable for gold and silver. He is ready, too, for tariff reform, and so declares himself when he asks for "equal opportunity for the rich and poor alike; equal privileges to all, special privileges to none."

All this means more than appears on the surface. It means an upheaval in the republican party, and the complete demoralization of its rank and file, if the democrats continue their campaign of education and make financial reform and tariff reform the supreme issues. When the critical moment comes there will be other bolting republican leaders besides Senators Teller and Wolcott.

Wanamaker's Imbecility.

If President Harrison decides to retain John Wanamaker in the cabinet it must be on the ground that the postmaster general is too much of an imbecile to be a criminal. Mr. Wanamaker's explanation of his irregular conduct in certain matters is that he

When he raised Quay's corruption campaign fund perhaps he forgot Quay's character and methods. When he posed as a pillar of morality in Bethany Sunday school perhaps he forgot that he had virtually purchased a seat in the cabinet. When he became so intimate with Lucas and Marsh perhaps he forgot their gambling transactions

It seems, according to his own statement, that he forgot making a request of the comp-troller to delay the appointment of a receiver for the Reystone bank. If he forgot that, how natural it is that he should forget his connection as a stockholder with that swindling concern! Doubtless he forgot that he carried stock in the names of his clerks, but that his signature was on the stubs of the stock book.

"Forgot" is a word to conjure with when a man like Wanamaker uses it. Many a man guilty of the half of the postmaster general's meanness would be kicked out of office, disgraced forever. But this fellow can stand up like a big baby and sweep away all the damning proof against him by whimpering his stereotyped "I forgot."

The president may stand by his right bower if he feels like it, but if he maintains that he is an honest man he must admit that he is an imbecile. Such forgetfulness cannot go with a sound mind.

And now the question comes up: Is an imbecile fit to be postmaster general?

As to Quay.

We printed the other day the protest of prominent citizens of Pennsylvania against Quay and the policy which he represents. This protest is perhaps more important than it appears to be, and, so far as we know, it is without a parallel in our political history; but the career of the republican party has so thoroughly accustomed the public to the contemplation of corruption in high places that such a phenomenon as Quay appears to be not only natural but inevitable.

Nevertheless, the spectacle that Quay pre sents is altogether unusual; indeed, it is unique. He seems to fit both the period and party, but this is due to the fact that the republican politicians have prepared the way for the appearance of just such a representative. A party without principles naturally attracts men without character. It does more; it disintegrates the moral fiber of honest men who train with it. The spectacle which Quay presents, and in a lesser degree, that of John Wanamaker, is a disgrace to the whole country. It fastens upon us a shame from which it will be difficult to

So far as the republican party is concerned, its attitude toward Quay has simply outlawed it. The people of Pennsylvania redeemed themselves in a measure by repudiating Quayism at the last election, but the republican party has endorsed, and still endorses, him with an earnestness that ought to damn it in the eyes of all honest men.

The Philadelphia republicans who demand the retirement of this wretched scamp from public life do not represent their party. They represent rather the American spirit which cannot tolerate corruption. But what will their protest amount to? Quay is holding two offices of honor and profit. He rep resents the great state of Pennsylvania in the senate, and he is the active head of the republican party. Will he resign from these positions and retire to private life? the republican party compel him to step down and out, and thus show that it appreciates the demand which the people make for honesty in politics? Will the president, who is said to be of a moral and religious turn of mind, demand the resignation of Quay ?

To ask these questions is to answer them. The republican party has not, since the taking off of Abraham Lincoln, been managed in the interests of honesty and morality. Its tendency has been all the other way. It has degenerated more rapidly than any political organization known to history. There has not been a day since the war when it was not ready to embrace dishonesty in order to win success-where it was not willing to endorse criminals and engage in crime in order to win a victory. It has degenerated until now we behold the spectacle of Quay and Wanamaker, twin statesmen from a republican state, one in the senate and the other in the cabinet.

Quay will not resign, and neither the republican party nor the administration will bring any pressure to bear on him. Quay is a necessity to the republican party, and he is therefore a necessity to the president, who is a candidate for a second term. As a party manager, his services cannot be dispensed with. He is bold, skillful and unscrupulous. He knows all the avenues of corruption, for he has trod them all. He knows what a powerful instrument corruption is, and its uses are familiar to him. He will remain the republican leader, and the republican party hopes once more to profit by his rascality.

Negro Republicans in Ohio. The republican negroes of Cincinnati have been holding a meeting to protest against the treatment they have received at the hand of the white leaders of the party. According to all accounts this meeting was a tremendous affair. The negroes not only made threatening speeches, declaring it to be their purpose to desert and destroy the republican party if their demands are not acceded to, but they passed a series of fiery resolutions setting forth their fell pur-

To those who know nothing of the negro character, or of its development under the humiliating conditions that exist in the north, these threatening speeches and reso lutions would appear to be ominous indeed: but there is nothing whatever in them. The spirit of independence which seems to breathe through the proceedings of the meeting is pure sham, and the speeches are not as earnest as those heard at a school examination. The Cincinnati Commercial Gazette, the great republican organ of Ohio, gives a fuller report of the meeting than the democratic Enquirer, but considers the affair too contemptible for editorial reference. This fact shows that the republican leaders thoroughly understand the negro character which they have assisted in developing. They know that this meeting, with its inflamed orators and its fiery resolutions, is merely intended to enable some of the colored bucks around Cincinnati to get their names in the newspapers. If this were not so-if the meeting and the resolutions meant anything-the republican leaders would be thrown into quite panic just at this time, for the demands of the negroes would add largely to the tangle in which they find themselves. The ne groes, it must be remembered, hold the balance of power in Ohio, and if they should conclude to remain away from the polls the republicans would inevitably lose the state. In other words, if the Cincinnati meeting represented the sentiments of the negroe who were present, or if it even represented the negroes who made speeches, it would be a very serious affair for the republicans, and with one in give the negroes what they demand.

In point of fact, however, nobody in Ohio will pay any attention to the resolutions of the negroes, not even the negroes them selves. The Enquirer gives an apt descrip tion of the affair in one word. It heads its report "Wind!" The negro bucks, after getting their names in the papers, will go to the back streets and gullies where repul prejudice has driven them, and they will ssue forth in droves on election day to humbly and cheerfully vote the republican ticket. They seem to accept with gratitude and pride the contempt of the white repub licans. Therefore the question arises, there any hope for such voters?

A Bad Precedent.

The exercise of the pardoning power is well enough under the proper circumstances, but it is sometimes greatly abused. Over in Italy, the other day, King Hum bert was petitioned to pardon a brigand named Carbone, on the ground that he has undergone a change of heart.

Carbone has been in prison since 1868. He killed four men, but was recommended to mercy as "not being a bad man at heart." When he and his band surrendered the peo ple felt so overjoyed at getting rid of then that they embraced and kissed the prisoners, who returned the salute.

It is very pleasant to hear that this despe rado has been converted, and it is a pity to keep a good man locked up. But how does anybody know anything about it? His pardon would be the signal for the appearance of multitudes of converted criminals, all clamoring for executive clemency. The safer course would be not to establish such a precedent. They cannot afford to be bothered with it in Italy, and we find it hard enough to punish criminals here, without allowing new ob stacles to be thrown in the way of justice.

A Wave of Violence.

Just at present the north and west are uffering from an epidemic of lawlessness. We do not allude to the ordinary class of violent crimes, but to certain lawless outrages which northern newspapers are in the habit of charging upon the south.

Let us glance at the record for the past week. Herbert Pratt, of West Medway, Mass., for testifying against liquor dealers vas attacked by a mob of masked men, beaten and stripped, and then covered with coat of tar.

A man near Peoria, Ill., failing to obe the notice of the white caps to leave the county, was shot dead in the road by some of the gang. At another place in Illinois a man and his daughter were seized by the white caps, peaten, and then tarred and feathered. In Kansas Colonel Sam N. Wood wa assassinated, it is believed, at the instance of several republican politicians In the same state Mrs. Mary A. Lease, of the Farmers' Alliance, charges the republicans with making three attempts to put her out of the way with poisoned lemonade These make a very ugly batch of items, and are calculated to excite the gravest ar prehensions. Is it possible that human life is held in such light esteem in the north and west? Have people in those regions no afeguards in the matter of free speech, and no protection when life and liberty are threatened? Are the north and west given over to lynch law and mob violence?

THE DEMOCRATS thought the surplus was embarrassing. The republicans would give a great deal to be embarrassed that way now.

"THE ADMINISTRATION," says The Globe Democrat, "is not going to cross any bridges until it comes to them." No, decidedly not. There's that Pennsylvania Quay, as the French say.

A TWO-CENT passenger rate on the Georgia trunk lines would be in the nature of wha Major Campbell Wallace calls a counter irritant. It would also be in the nature of reduction of the taxes imposed on the people by the corporations. The commission should

THE REASON that John Wanamaker is such good man is because he carries a lunch to Bethany Sunday school and advertises in The Philadelphia Press. Can a man go wrong who indulges in these pastoral habits?

IF QUAY would wave the American flag perhaps all the republicans would rally round

WE HAVE seen that the railroad commis sion of Georgia has its eyes open and its teeth on edge. What is to prevent it from declaring a two-cent passenger rate on the trunk lines in Georgia? The people are ripe for this reduc tion in taxation.

WITH TWO such patriots as Quay and John Wanamaker the republican party ought to make a rattling campaign. We shall have something of this sort, but the people will do the rattling.

UNCLE JERRY RUSK seems to be about the only great man in the administration who has clean record. Uncle Jerry's only fault in that he knows nothing about farming.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

THE CENSUS shows that in thirty-five agricul tural counties in Virginia there has been a de-cline in the last decade, while in nearly as many more there has been no gain of consequence. To bacco and wheat production ha fallen off. The causes are said to be western competition, the disturbed condition of the state's finances, the exactions of the railroads the excessive cost of marketing products and the special oppressions complained of by the Farmers Alliance. But nobody looks forward to the con tinuance of this depression.

OUR PENSIONS for the year 1886 amounted to less than eighteen million dollars. This year they will amount to over one hundred and thirty million dollars-one-third of the entire running expenses of the government. There is an increach year. When will it end?

THE CHICAGO INTER OCEAN says: "Before the war there was no such flower as the daisy in Virginia. The hardy flower was a curiosity. Now the fields just around Richmond are white with them. This is especially so of the late battlefields about the Chickahominy river and wherever the federals had encampments. An investigation shows that the seeds of the prolific daisy were brought there in the bales of hay brought by the union soldiers to Virginia when they were camped near the city. An old battery west of Richmond is the spot from which the daisy began to spread."

THE CINCINNATI ENQUIRER is responsible for the following: "Twenty years ago Colonel Bedford, of Kentucky, bought a prize bull from the Megibben stock farm. THE NEW YORK WORLD says: "Chili is, in some respects, a land of surprises to the visitor from North America. He discovers, for instance, that the government theater in Santiago is a finer playhouse than any in the United States—a magnificent structure with four tiers of balconies sumptuously upholstered with crimson brocade and decorated in white and gold. When the great anditorium is filled with a representative audience of Chilian beauty and manliness, the Parisian toilets of the women, their bare arms, fluttering fans and blazing jewels bewilder the visiting spectator. It is more gorgeous than any visiting spectator. It is more gorgeous than any thing in Paris. The average price of seats on the floor of the house is $4."

HERE AND THERE IN GEORGIA,

A remarkable story, told by The Marietta Jour-nal, exemplifies the old adage, "Be sure your sin will find you out:"

"George Pearce, white, who killed Charlie Ed rards, white, in Cherokee county, Georgia, twenty we years ago and fied to Texas," says The Journal "has just been arrested and brought back to Cher-kee county by Sheriff Kitchens for trial. Pearce has passed under his own name in Texas and ac-cumulated about twenty thousand dollars. Ed-wards's two sons are the only witnesses to the kill-ing. Messrs, Clay & Blair, of Marietta, have been employed by the defendant."

Not long ago THE CONSTITUTION published series of articles on tobacco culture, in which it was shown what might be done in Georgia with gives an example of what has been done, editor says:

"Messrs. Harvin & Wetherly some time ago planted twenty-five acres of tobacco on their place about six miles from town and gare a gentleman, Mr. Shelier, an experienced tobacco grower of Quincy, a half interest in the same to superintend the cultivation and curing of the weed. A good deal has been said about the Tenness oil fields of late. In the meantime the work on the oil wells in Alabama has been vigorously prosecuted. The Sheffield Enterprise says:

"Gover well No. 2 is now 1,300 feet deep with the best of indications for a rich find of oil. The well will be put in in ten days, and the company has purchased 40,000 feet of lumber and $5.000 worth purchased 40,000 feet of lumber and $5,000 worth of machinery and will put down the wells as rapidly as possible and will be their own operators. Mr. Moran and others from Bradford, Pa., are now on the ground waiting for machinery to be placed, and will commence operations in a few days. Professor McKae says the oil-bearing rock is very promising for heavy yields of oil, and the oil is not like the black oil of Ohio, but a light green color, showing a superiority in quality over the Ohio oils."

An Outrage. From The Marietta Journal.

The railroads have advanced the freight rate on coal 25 to 50 per cent. Atlants is kick-ing. Well may other towns in Georgia kick also. It is an outrage. It seems that the West Point Terminal system is the cause of this extor Point Terminal system is the cause of this extor-tion. The Terminal made a formal demand on the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad to advance the Western and Atlantic coal rate, which they refused to do. In order to carry its point the Terminal made a demand on the Queen and Crescent to advance its coal rates from the mines to the Georgia line to cover the differences which the Western and Atlantic refused to adopt. The Cincinnati Southern fell into line. Thus the gouging process is being accomplished by means unjust to the people. The legislature can very readily see what a railroad combination, like that of the Terminal, will do for Georgia unless they command a halt and say thus far shalt thou go

IN COURT AND GIVE AN ACCOUNT OF

empt of Court? - A Petitio

Filed by Receiver Kingsberry—The Appeal Agreed On. Yesterday morning Judge Marshall Clarke signed an order directing Mr. Stephen A. Ryan to appear in court at 10 o'clock Monday and explain what dispos tion he has made of the money received by him in the last few months: to explain why this money has not been delivered to the receiver, and on his failure to make a

Mr. Charles S. Kingsberry, the receiver, has engaged Calhoun, King & Spalding to represent him in an effort to secure additional assets from Mr. Ryan. Yesterday a petition was filed which sets forth that the receiver qualified on the 1st of the month, and that at 4 o'clock that day he called on Mr. Ryan and demanded that he surrender all the assets of the late business as directed by the court, including his books, papers, notes, accounts, deposits in bank, checks, etc., in his posses control at the time of the filing of the original petition for receiver. Mr. Ryan, so the receiver states, said that he was en tirely conversant with the order, and that he had surrendered to J. W. Morrow all of his assets, and that he had no further surrender to make. The receiver declares that Mr. Ryan has made no surrender to him of anything except what was gotten from the temporary receiver and he proceeds to charge on information and belief that at the time of the filing of the original petition Mr. Ryan had in his possession or control money to the amount of $500 000.

He says that the allegations are founded on the fact that in August, 1889, Ryan was possessed of property aggregating in value about two hundred thou sand dollars: that he bought goods to the amount of $950,000 as shown by his debts, so that he had assets to the amount of $1,150,000; that the stock is worth but $450,000, leaving unaccounted for $700,000 in a business covering only twenty-two months. The ceiver goes on to the facts about the enormous sales of goods made by Rvan in the last five or six months, and says that from the 27th of March to the 23d of May he deposited in the three Atlanta banks where he did business $292,954.09, not more than $10,000 of which went to his debts. The receiver also calls for the cash from the sales on the last Saturday and Monday and part of the last Tuesday on which Ryan did business.

Judge Clarke ordered that Mr. Ryan appear at 10 o'clock Monday and show why he has not complied with the order of the court, and at the same time show cause why he should not be attached for contempt of court for his failure to comply with the order.

The sheriff having been a party to the litigation, the papers were put in the hands of Coroner Davis to be served.

The coroner hunted for Mr. Ryan, but he was out riding and could not be found. Mr. Walter Brown, who is Mr. Ryan's attorney, assured the coroner that he need not give himself any uneasiness, as Mr. Ryan would be at Mr. Brown's office this morning at 9 o'clock, and the papers could be served then.

This new feature of the case will be watched with decided interest.

Mr. Ryan says the $1,100 he turned over to Mr. Morrow was all the cash he had. The Bill of Exceptions.

The appeal from the decision of Judge Clarke, appointing a receiver, will be made today. The bill of exceptions has been prepared, and notice that it would be presented was given by Mr. Walter R. Brown, in chambers, yesterday morning.

Judge Clarke announced yesterday n ing that he would not hear any cases for the removal of goods from Ryan's store by parties who have claimed goods that they have identified until after the inventory is completed. The court passed an order that the re ceiver in assorting goods claimed by persons who wish to reassert their title, should have the right to call on Mr. Ryan to assist him, so as to prevent persons from setting aside goods to which they have no

The court allowed the receiver to execut a note for $6,000 to pay the insurance and other expenses while he is waiting for the sale of goods to begin.

After the end of this week there will be very little leftprobably enough to pay the transportation ex-penses of the companies booked for next week. To pay their expenses there it is estimated that $8,000 will be necessary at once, and the meeting today must get it. How will they do it? That must be first decided, and when the overnor and General Kell arrive today everal schemes will be tried, all depe which will not meet until next Wednesday. The money may be, it is thought, gotten from the contingent fund, to be paid be of the $25,000 appropriation for next year's encampment, and at the same time increase the fund sufficiently to pay out next year, if ecessary.

Or, again, it may be borrowed, the lender banking on the payment of the debt by the legislature. This, it is thought, is entirely safe, as the legislature will certainly appre-ciate the trouble now labored under.

A third idea is for the men to go and stand the expense themselves, having it paid back to them when the legislature meets. This, however, cannot be done, according to the ion of the Fourth Georgia ba Wednesday night, when it was decided not to go unless the money was in hand to pay for the week. By some of these means it is hoped and expected by some to get the necessary funds.

unlooked for close of the encampment.

Captain Hollis, of the Zouaves, said: From what I can understand it's pretty pertain that the last week of the encamp will have to be cut off, and, for myself, I am rather glad of an opportunity to escape. Of course I am sorry on many accounts, but the trip would give little individual pleasure to me. "I believe it makes little difference to most of the members of our battalion, for we will then have an encampment of our own that will suit most of them much better, in spite of the regret all will have that the end ment couldn't be carried through. The other officers talk about the same way, as do also the men in the battalion. There is as do also the first in the baseands. There is some disappointment among all, but they don't appear to feel as bad about it as they might. That is from a pleasureable point of view.

THE CAPTURE OF THE CAPTAIN And the Tortures Inflicted Upon

LIFE SCENES UNDER THE GROUND Which Read Like a Tale from Sheol.

Boston, Mass., July 2 .- [Special.]-For two years and ten months Captain Joseph D. Morris, of this city, lived 200 feet below the surface of the earth, in a Russian coal mine.

Part of the time he was chained to the corpse of his dead companion, and endured such hor-rors as would move him to dance for joy if every member of the royal family of Russia ld fall beneath the steel of nihilism.

Captain Morris, who is a man of remarkable modesty, was in command of a sealing schooner, plying its trade in the waters of the Behring sea. The vessel had made several successful trips, and was finally emboldened to peach upon Russian territory, when a Russian man-of-war gave pursuit. After describing the capture of the schooner, the slaughter of half the crew, and the landing of the balance at Vladivstock as prisoners, Captain Morris goes on to tell a story of cruelty which quite eclipses the worst ever told by Mr. George

"As soon as we landed," said the captain, "I started to go aboard the schooner, but when I came near found myself looking down the muzzles of eight needle guns. The men be hind them wanted to know what I wanted. When I told them I wanted my personal effects they referred me to the governor of the town. It was too late to see him that night, so I went with my men to the hotel. This might seem like liberty, but we were all under the eye

"We had not been twenty minutes in the hotel when an order came from the governor that no house, public or private, would be al-lowed to keep us, so we had to make our bed on the planks of the wharf. That was early in September, and we were forced to live a best we could on the beach until the 27th of October, the date of our trial. We dug holes in the banks and slept upon dried grass. Although we had been taken into port as prison own stores; neither was food provided for us We had to shift for ourselves. We were allowed allowed apparent freedom, but every-where we went we found a soldier close at hand watching our movements. The trial was conducted in Russian. We, told our stories in English, and they were translated for the ben efit of the court, but we were ignorant of the testimony against us. The only thing we knew was that we had been convicted of violating the seal and fishing laws.

We were taken to the jail, a crowded. heated hole of a stone building with cemented floor, having hollows here and there filled with sixteen by twenty feet, walled with stone and lighted by slits in the stone with bars across. About twenty others were there when we came, mostly Chinamen, with a few Russians, None of us had a bed to lie on.

'We were thoroughly searched, even to the lining of our clothes, and everything taken from us. At the sight of our money the guard uttered a loud guffaw. At the end of a week we were taken away to Nicolaski, 150 miles to the northward, near the Gulf of Penjinsk. We all walked, guard included, and of the company there were about thirty-six persons. ne of the other prisoners were left at a town on the road, and the rest of us proceeded with our smaller guard. We slept under cover only two nights during the march, which took -three days. Our rations were a pound of dry bread a day. The guard would shoot rabbits and game for themselves. On the march we were not cruelly freated. The guards were reticent, but did not trouble

"When we reached Nicolaski we learned that we were sentenced to work in the mines three years. Our names were called, one by and each of us received from the interpre ter a paper stating that each must dig and send from the mine five car loads of coal a day. If the stated amount of coal did not come up no rations would be sent down, so that if any of us were sick, he would have to starve to death. . We now found that our sentence wa for three years. We were to send up five car ds a day for the first year, and after that three car loads. I was first to go down, and I didn't see the light for two years and ten months. I was left in a pit 200 fees long and about twenty wide. I never knew how high it was. The darkness so intense that I was never able to see but a few feet in front of me.

"After I had been down a little while I saw a light in the other end of the pit. I at once went toward it, and there beheld one of the most woful sights I ever saw in my life. It was a man six feet tall and built in proportion. He was covered with coal dirt from head to foot. his clothes were in tatters and he looked like a fiend. The light that I had seen came from the miner's lantern on his head. On seeing me he let forth a savage yell and come toward me rapidly, talking in Russian, to which I could only reply with a shake of the head. He then went back to his picking in disgust.

"Later an officer came down, bringing with him two belts and a chain, with riving instruments. The belts were of thick leather, padded on the inside so that they would not cut into us when put on. The officer rivetted two bands of iron to the outside of these belts, and then put one on each of us, connecting us with an iron chain eight feet long. Up to this time the Pole, for that I learned was the nationality of my fellow-prisoner, had worked in the pit alone. Why we were chained together I did not know, and don't know now, unless it was to increase the punishment or to prevent escape, ugh the latter was absolutely impossible in a pit so many feet below the surface of the earth, with a single outlet up the shaft, at the mouth of which was stationed a guard day and night. The Pole was insane, and for a day or two my condition was mighty uncomfortable. He ate my rations of rice and soup, and threated to kill me when I expostulated.

"At last hunger drove me to desperation and the Pole and I had a terrible fight. He was much stronger than I, but he had no skill, I got the best of him and gave him a sound drubbing. After that we got along all right. At the end of three months I awoke one morning and found my companion dead. I was in a dilema. I was chained to a dead man and with five car-loads of coal to send up or no rations While I was turning it over in my mind a thought struck me. By this time I was nearly starved. I thought if I could wheel the corpse from the vein of coal to the shaft, take it off there and dump my coal into the car and work hard enough to do two men's work, I would get the rations sent down for both of us, and this I did for four days, sending both lanterns up every night. At the end of this time I couldn't stand it any longer, and I decided to do my own work only.

reafter, as I expected, rations cam down for only one. At this time I think for aeveral days my reason partially left me, for I can remember beating the corpse with my shovel. I don't know why I should have done so, but I suppose I was driven frantic by seeing myself helplessly chained to a corpse. At the end of fifteen days, having to lift and carry the fellow around all the time. I became carry the fellow around all the time, I began to feel weak from labor and sick from the stench of the putrefying body. What to do I did not know, but at last a fearful thought came to me that makes me shudder to this day, and there was no way but to carry it out.

"I took my shovel and cut the corpse through at the waist, removing the belt, thus by the only possible way freeing myself from the body. I placed the portions of the corpse in the car and and sent them up them up in the next load of coal. On the next car down were hammer and chisel, which I divined were for the purpose of taking off my band and chain. This I did, and sent them up with the next load of coal. This was all the recognition they gave to my sending up the dead body. I learned when I came out that a pardon had come for the Pole only a few week after his death after his death.

"Now, I was alone, and I kept at my five cars daily until one day, after I had sent up my second car, a paper came down, telling me to put my lamp on the next load. This meant that I had been in the mine a year, and now I was to send up only three loads a day. I had myself been keeping account of the time by placing a lump of coal for each day in a certain place. My count made it 353 days, which, considering my situation, I think was pretty good. I now sank into a despondent mood. good. I now sank into a despondent mood, and I found that three cars a day were worse and I found that three cars a day were worse than five. I had so much more time to think. I would sit on my bed of coal and ponder over my hardships until I thought I should go made If I had had any means of committing suicide I certainly should have taken it.

"It did not occur to me to get on the carmyself on one of its up trips. If I had done so I would certainly have been shot by the guard at the entrance of the mine. Time went on, endless as it seemed, and nothing occurred to break the monotony until one day an office descended with a large sheet of paper. He could not talk English, but merely motioned for me to get into the car. This I when I for me to get into the car. This I refused to do, because I was more scared to go up than to stay where I was. He then returned up the shaft and soon came down again with an interpreter, who told me that my term of imprisonment had a spited. nent had expired.

After his release Captain Morris could get neither relief nor information from the offi-cials, but made his way as best he could back to Vladivstock, whence a Japanese steamer took him to Nagasaki, where the America: consul enabled him to reach home. BISHOP TALBOT

GIVES GENERAL SATISFACTION TO

Is a Young Gentleman of Magne Qualities, and Is One of the Finest Pulpit Orators.

The delegates have returned from the Epis-copal convention at Sanannah, and every one seems pleased with the bishop elected. Everywhere yesterday Episcopalians were discussing the election.

Although the new bishop is generally unknown in Atlanta, those who have any knowledge of him are certain that a most excellent choice has been made. At Bishop Talbot's Home LARAMIE, Wy., July 2.—[Special.]—The Right Rev. Ethelbert Talbot, the newly elected bishop of Georgia, is at Douglas, 150 miles north of this city, and nothing is known here of what his decision will be regarding his acceptance or declination of the Georgia bishopric.

OPTIC.

THE CONSTITUTION reporter was pleasently received this evening by Mrs. Talbot, who seems delighted with the prospect of going south. Mrs. Talbot stated that the bishop would be home on Saturday to remain ten days. In the bishop's absence Mrs. Talbot was naturally retirent regriding any state. was naturally reticent regarding any state ments to be made public. She confessed however, that this news from Georgia was not wholly a surprise. She added:

"I do not think he would accept New York city if it were offered him. Bishop Talbot came to Wyoming to do a work in the Wyoming and Idaho diocese, and I don't think he feels that he has accomand I don't think he reets that he has accom-plished it fully. There are many reasons," continued Mrs. Talbot, "that would naturally induce many men to accept. Georgia is one of the best dioceses in the country. Bishop Talbot's parents were Virginians and Ken-tuckians, and we both have a strong attachment to the south."

Proceeding further, Mrs. Talbot said that the bishop, about two weeks ago, received a letter from Georgia asking him if he would accept the position to which he has just been elected. Bishop Talbot answered this letter, saying that he was perfectly happy in his work here, and was looking for no other field. Will Bishop Talbot accept this compilment? His friends here are not prepared to say. His letter to the Georgian's was not a positive declination of the honor—it simply conveyed his satisfaction in well-doing. He will undoubtedly be guided solely by the thought of whether he can do a great work in Georgia. His departure would be little short of a calamity to Wyoming and Idaho and his decision will be awaited with almost breathless suspense.

Love's Young Dream Is Ended, and Both Want Pretty Little Beulah—The Now Famous Keppel Case in Court.

The trial of a suit for a pretty little four-year-old girl is now going on before Judge Marshall J. Clarke in chambers. It is the suit of Mrs. Mary E. Reppel against ber husband, Henry E. Keppel.

On account of the serious charges made against Mrs. Keppel and her inexperience in the ways of the world, her attorney, Judge John L. Hopkins, advised her to go to Baltimore and live with her parents. That took John L. Hopkins, advised her to go to Baltimore and live with her parents. That took little Beulah out of the jurisdiction of the Georgia court. An order was then taken awarding the custody of the child to the husband, who went to Baltimore, instituted habeas corpus proceedings and was awarded the custody of the child by the court there. Mrs. Kannel's father, however, got pressure of Keppel's father, however, got possession of the child, refused to give her up and Mr. Keppel came back to Georgia. His wife came also, brought Beulah, delivered her to her father, and then asked the court to change the order and again allow her the custody of her child. This is the question now pending, the

At the trial yesterday Mr. Keppel charged that Mrs. Keppel left the city secretly when she carried little Beulah to Baltimore. He says she took her clothes out of her trunks and escaped from her boarding house by a window, leaving her empty trunks; that she went to Belt Junction in a hack and took the train there. Mrs. Keppel says that her at-torney advised her not to tell anybody that she was going to leave the city, and that she did not let the fact that she was going away be known to more than one or two per

When first confronted with the order to deliver Beulah to her father, she says she declined because Mr. Keppel told her if he ever got possession of Beulah he would never let the mother see her child again. Mr. Keppell says he was misunderstood on that point; that he simply stated that he demanded the child on the order of the court. The child is now boarding in the daytime with Mr. and Mrs. James Wright, on Edgewood avenue, and every night is taken to the wood avenue, and every night is taken to the room of her father, at the corner of Edgeroom of her father, at the corner of Edge-wood avenue and Ivy street, where she sleeps with him. There was evidence to show that the child has been seen several times in the custody of a negro woman who lives in a negro settlement in Bell-wood, and that the child had been carried to wood, and that the child had been carried to the woman's house at night, as if to sleep there. There was other evidence to show, however, that the negro referred to was the child's nurse, and it seemed to be the purpose of the father to in good faith provide well for

AMERICAN DESCRIPTION AND VALORIES

BAILROADS ARE UNDERMIN-ING ATLANTA INDUSTRY.

Mr. Elias Haiman and Mr. Will-lam E. Austin,

It appears that the advance in coal freights is only one feature of the systematic discrimination by which the railroads are undermining the manufacturing interests of Atlanta. Already the discrimination in iron is so great that some of our most important manufacturing concerns are looking for another location; still the railroads are not satisfied. There must be another twist the screws and the freight on iron must go 33 per cent. The president of the Southern Agricultural Works says that if present rates are not lowered, so as to equalize freights between Atlanta and competitive manufacturing cities, he will have to burn petroleum or seek another location. What ther will he do when the present freight rates on iron are raised 33 per cent? This is what the railroads are asking the commission to let them do in Georgia.

Mr. William E. Austin, also of the Southern Agricultural Works, who has traveled all over the south, and is thoroughly familiar with the force of competition and the rates necessary to give Atlanta manufacturers an equal showing, gives in detail the discrimination in rates. He shows how Pittsburg is given an advantage of 14 cents a hundred pounds or $33.60 per carload in the shipment of steel to Augusta, though the goods are shipped through Atlanta from Pitts burg to Augusta. A 10 per cent disnation on the same goods gives Chattanooga $12 a car advantage on goods shipped to Augusta. That is, Chattanooga can buy the unfinished steel in Pittsburg, finish it and ship to Augusta for 45 cents a hundred while it costs Atlanta 50 cents to do the same thing, the steel coming in both instances from Pittsburgh, and over the same

Mr. Austin's table shows that in shipments to the Georgia trade, a trade for which Atlanta is the natural distributing point, there is almost uniform discrimination in favor of Chattanooga, a point outside the state, and contributing to the business and the prosperity of these railroads not a tithe of the magnificent patronage given them by Atlanta. For example, the rate on special iron from Atlanta to Carrollton is 14 cents; from Chattanooga, nearly twice the distance, 15 cents. The routes to both places are controlled by the Central railroad, a Georgia corporation, owing its franchise to the people of Georgia, and enjoys special privileges and immunities under the liberal charter granted by this state.

The rate Atlanta to Elberton, Ga., 18 18 2-3 cents; from Chattanooga, 140 miles further, it is only 22 cents. From Atlanta to Charleston, Savannah or Jacksonville is 14 cents, and from Chattanooga only 16. When you get outside the state it is even worse. The rate from Atlanta to d Selma is 14 cents, and oga, nearly twice as far, it really looks like a conacy again Atlanta.

the matter will be found in the interviews, in which Mr. Haiman and Mr. Austin, at the request of THE Constitution, describe the situation in their line of manufacture.

What Mr. Elias Haiman Savs.

Mr. Elias Haiman, president of the Southern Agricultural Works, expressed in strong terms his opinion of the rise in coal rates and the discrimination against Atlanta.

"The present policy of the railroads, if con-nued," said he, "will eventually ruin Atlanta as the industrial center. The manufac-turers of the city already feel heavily the ently endeavor to increase rates. Occasionally, by strong effort, we secure some s, but no cooner is this done than the ed to raise the rates on some other or to change the classification so that the meral result is an increase rather than a re-

"It is undoubtedly true that the interest of the whole state is affected by the discrimination against Atlanta, while in the small towns only the interest of a few is affected.

As for the interstate commission, we would be ruined before we could ever hope for any relief from that body."

"What do you propose to do about the in-

"I have just addressed letters to the railroad authorities and to the commission, in which I show how damaging is the course pursued, and state that the coal rate will compel us, at a great expense, to change our works so we can use crude petroleum or to cast about for a new location

"The coal rate is not the only burden. If it were, perhaps it could be borne, but in every way we are discriminated against, and it can be safely stated that, to almost any town outside of the absolute control of the Southern Railway and Steamship Association and the West Point Terminal Company, crude material can be brought, and the finished goods shipped out cheaper than it can be done to and from Atlanta.

'The railroads combine and water the stock, and then expect the public, by extoronate rates, to pay interest on capital that never was represented by actual dollars.

"In the entire commercial world values have lessened, yet freight rates must be kept up, and the growth of cities must be retarded because a combination has bottled them up because a combination has bottless capi-and wishes to pay interest on a fictitious capi-tal. The cost of railroad construction has greatly decreased, and also the cost of equipments, yet we find them stocked and bo for more per mile than when steel rails were $125 per ton instead of thirty some odd. So far as the Southern Agricultural Works are ed unless there is some change, w will have to look for a new location."

Mr. Austin Shows the Discrimination William E. Austin, of the Southern Agri-

"I think it is conceded that Atlanta owes entirely to her varied manufacturing time when these railroads were conducted as separate corporations; but since the inception of the Southern Railway and Steamship Association and the combination of nearly all the southern railroads into two gigantic corporations, the Richmond Terminal and the Louisville and Nashville, their policy seems not to help the manufacturers a but to harrass and worsy with constantly changing classification rates; and in nearly every instance the Atlanta manufacturer finds that these changes make it vastly more difficult for him to suc cessfully meet competition on the same class of goods produced by other manufacturers in other cities more favorably located, such as Louisville, Cincinnati, Chattanooga and Birmingham. Our Atlanta manufacturers are seeking a market for their products in every state south of the Ohio river, and throughout the entire southwest, and then competition does not come from Georgia cities alon but from manufacturers in other states, and unless something is done to place Atlanta in dustries on such a basis that they can successfully meet this compesition they will be forced to remove their plants to more favorable locations. This step is now being very seriously considered by more than one Atlanta many

"We need more manufactures here, and need them badly, and if the railroad commis sion would only give us what we absolutely need in the way of low freight rates on raw materials in and on finished goods out of Atlanta, we would soon see many new industries started that will, as the situation now is, locate at other points.

"It will kill the manufacturing industries of Atlanta," said they, emphatically, "and we think it not only un ist, but an outrage. We are not discriminated against in the rate for coal alone. Why, do you know that ma-chinery can be shipped from Boston or New York to any point in Georgia within 200 miles of Atlanta cheaper than it can be shipped to that point from Atlanta? Coal now costs us $2.50 per ton laid down, and the railroads get the lion share of that. They tell us to raise the price of our If we do, with the tion we have at present, we would have to go out of the business. We use 100 carloads of coal per annum and the raise in rates will swell our coal bill to frightful proportions.

"What do you think is the remedy?" "The remedy is to bring it before the legislature and let them bring them to terms if possible. The rate commission meets and never asks a single manufacturer before them to ask what would give them relief, but fix their rates and if they have ever been regulated by the railroad commission I don't know

Mr. Van Winkle stated that they were increasing their capacity, and much more coal would be necessary.

"But the late raise," said he, "has put us to thinking." The Cotton Manufacturers

Mr. H. E. Fisher, superintendent of the At-lanta cotton mills, said that the raise meant to them $1,500 per year more for the same amount of coal as before.

"We consume," said he, "100 tons a week, and the recent raise not only in the freight rates, but the increase in the price of coal staggers us. Now Savannah and Charleston will not feel this raise like Atlanta, because they have water communication and get their coal from the Pennsylvania coal fields by steamer. Nor will Birmingham be affected as she is right in the midst of the coal fields. The railroads tell us to raise the price of our goods, but they overlook the fact that Massachusetts can manufacture cotton goods and ship them here and put them on the market as cheap as we can with the increased tariff. Most northern mills have the advantage of water power and are thus saved the enormous expense of coal. There is no reason why we should not have cheap coal here in Atlanta We are close to the coal fields. But the rail-roads have made coal high, and now if coal goes up we will be in the soup." "What is the remedy?" "The only thing to do is to appeal to the legislature and get them to bring it before the interstate commerce combefore the interstate commerce com-mission, and maybe they can regulate them. None of our neighboring cities, with the ex-ception, perhaps, of Chattanooga, are feeling the effects of this raise like Atlanta, and it will seriously hurt her manufacturing indus-tries. Before I came here I was engaged in manufacturing at Norwich, Conn., and when-ever the railroads made a raise in freight rates manufacturing at Norwich, Conn., and whenever the railroads made a raise in freight rates we would charter a boat and hard our freight. That never failed to bring them up standing."

Will Cripple Our Factories.

Mr. George B. Hinman, superintendent Atlanta furniture company, says:

"It will seriously cripple all industries using coal and cause some to close up their business and drive them to other cities, not affected by this recent raise.

"We base the price of our products on the price of coal and other things necessary to have, and we have an established standard of prices, and now the railroads increase the freight rates on coal, one of our biggest items. prices, and now the railroads increase the freight rates on coal, one of our biggest items. The manufacturer has to bear the loss entailed by the increase, for on account of so much competition we can't raise the price of

Mr. Tucker, superintendent of the Expo

Here is the way he puts it:

"All there is about it is that there is an increase of 15 cents freight per ton, and every ton of coal we consume is a dead loss to us of 15 cents. It has not affected us yet, as we laid in a good supply of coal before the rates were advanced. Heretofore we have always been able to get some concessions from the mines during the months of July and August—either they will make some special arrangement with the roads for ta cheap rate, or we get coal cheaper.

"Profiting by this we usually buy enough coal in summer to run us through the winter months. Whether we will be able to do this this year remains to be seen. It entails a heavy loss to the unautacturer."

Mr. Gaerge Winship, said that Atlanta Mr. George Winship said that Atlanta would be more materially affected by the advance than any of her sister cities.

The only remedy he could suggest was the interstate commerce commission.

"It will certainly hurt all kinds of iron in-

They say that by reason of this they lost the southern market when coal brought a much better price, and were compelled to ship to the north, a much greater distance. The bill sets out that coal which would have brought $1.90 in the south could be sold for only 99 cents in the north, $2 coal for 95 11-12 cents, 75 cents for 47 cents, $1 for 55 cents, and so on through all the classes of coal. A large number of persons were present. Miss Ridley, in white slik mult, and Miss Effle Pope, in thin material of pale rose color, which floated around her like a cloud, were the cynosure of all eyes, and were surrounded throughout the evening by a circle of gentlemen admirers. Miss Mary Toombs Hardeman, in lace, was also another center of attraction, as was also Miss Nora Palmer. The bandsome and attractive young wife of 'the mayor, Mr. B. S. Irvin, was also present. She is a late and much-valued accession to Washington society, chosen to preside over a beautiful home.

A number of other attractive married ladies were present: Mrs. Hogue, Mrs. B. F. lieard, Mrs. W. H. Toombs, Mrs. John J. Hill, Mrs. W. W. Hill, and also Mrs. F. H. Colley, who will always be, young or old, one of the most attractive material.

THE FIRST DAY

THE COLORED PEOPLE'S EXHI-BITION PASSES OFF NICELY.

West Show, Racing, Baby Show, and Many Other Features-Today's

The first day of the grand exhibition to be held at Piedmont park July 2d, 3d, and 4th, opened up very auspiciously yesterday.

There was quite a crowd at the park when the exercises began at 10 o'clock and much enthusiasm was manifested. A great crowd is expected today to witness the interstate drill and also tomorrow at the grand review by Governor Northen.

The best element of the colored race is interested in the festivities, and has worked long and zealously to make the three days' ex-hibition a success

The opening address, which was to have been delivered by Rev. J. S. Flipper, was postponed until today, as a much larger attendance is anticipated. From 10 to 12 o'clock a match game of ball was played by the Atlantas and Augustas. It was exceedingly interesting, and there was some good playing on both sides, but the Atlantas won, amid much enthusiasm.

One of the greatest attractions of the day was the performance of the wild west show at 2 o'clock. Mexican Frank, whose daring horsemanship at the exposition last fall was the subject of much admiration, had charge of the performance. Some skillful lassoing and representation of cowboy life were presented. After the wild west came the interesting baby show in the grand stand.

The babies were brought forward by their parents and entered into the contest. The judges were Rev. J. S. Flipper, J. J. Taylor and R. C. Chivers. They examined each baby and made diligent inquiry as to the ages. It was an interesting sight—the babies ranged along in a row in front of the grand stand, while their expectant mammas and papas were standing by in breathless anxiety watching the examination being conducted by the

The spectators watched and waited while the judges examined and conferred and the young entries gazed on in bilssful unconscious

After the examination had been finished the first prize, which was a baby carriage, was awarded to Mrs. Andrew Hill, and the second, which was $5 in gold, to Mrs. Mary Cargile. At the announcement of the names of the winners, the spectators applauded loudly.

And when the prizes were delivered the crowd yelled again. And the carriages containing the victorious and defeated were rolled away, amidst music by the band and by the babies.

The Racing.

The Racing.

The horse racing at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon was witnessed by enthusiastic and admiring throngs.

Many a coon staked his pile on the "hoss" he judged would "git there Ell."

The finishes in both races were close, the horses being less than a length apart.

The first race was a paoing race, three-minute class, in which the entries were Rip-Rap, Whiteman and H. L. This race was won by Whiteman in 2:49. He is owned by Mr. H. Madden, of Augusts.

The next race was a running race, half mile heats. The entries were Sam Mitchell, Grover C. and Darktown Frank. This race was easily won by Sam Mitchell, a three-year-old colt. He made the first heat in 53 seconds. Darktown Frank was second.

He made the first heat in 53 seconds. Parktown Frank was second.

There was a grand military ball at night, attended by the local and visiting military companies and the different colored organizations in the city.

HOW TO BUY GROCERIES.

A Question of Interest to Everybody.

A little reflection is all that is needed to convince any one that the question of "How to Buy Groceries?" is one of importance to every one; for eating is one of the necessities of life, and a good, well-filled table its greatest luxury. Now, in answering this question, the first requisite should be pure, fresh goods. Goto some store where everything is kept clean land neat, and where you are sure of getting fresh goods of the very best quality.

Surely, if there is anything that we should be careful about, it is that everything we eat should be of the best quality and absolutely pure and tresh.

careful about, it is that everything we can should be of the best quality and absolutely pure and fresh.

How, we claim to handle only the very best quality of everything, and our large trade, which is constantly on the increase, insures freshness.

Besides, our store and our goods are kept scrupulously clean. Everything that dust can injure is kept under glass, and we invite all to come and inspect our stock of pure, fresh, clean and first-class groceries.

The next requisite in buying groceries is price. Today a lady, while buying a bill, remarked "Why, Mr. Hoyt, I just paid 20 cents for Windham corn, and you only charge me 15 cents." On being priced Rijamo coffee, she said that she had always paid 40 cents for coffee until she bought ours, and that ours was better. Another lady bought just then some of our fine Jersey butter at 50 cents, remarking that it was the best she could find and 5 cents per pound cheaper than any other. And we could go on through our stock, convincing you both of the quality and cheapness of our goods, but the above will suffice.

The next item in buying groceries is variety. You want to trade where you can find all you want. Now, it is conceded by all that we carry the most complete line of everything to eat that can be found anywhere.

No other store carries such a line of fine gro-

DEKALB COUNTY PREPARING FOR A GRAND ANNIVERSARY. e Association One of the Oldest in the South-Its History from Its Inception.

The Exercises.

The twenty-sixth annual anniversary of the DeKalb County Sunday School Association was held Wednesday, in the children's tabernacle, at Decatur, Ga.

The officers are: Mr. Milton A. Candler, president; W. J. Houston, chairman executive committee; and G. A. Ramspeck, secretary.

A delightful programme, consisting of singing, responsive reading and addresses by Dr. E. H. Barnett and Mr. Hoke Smith, had been

The exercises were attended by a large delegation from Atlanta, and it is needless to s that the whole of DeKalb county was there. The exercises were opened by a song, "Shall You? Shall I?" which was beautifully sung by the Decatur schools.

Then came a responsive reading, "The Parable of the Sower," led by Mr. Milton A. Candler, president. Prayer was then offered by Rev. T. H.

After some delightful singing, in which all the schools participated, Dr. Barnett was introduced by Mr. Candler and delivered a splendid speech. He was given the undi-vided attention of the audience while he was

After the speaking there was some delight. ful singing, which was limited to children under twelve years of age. Then dinner.

You would have to have been there to have appreciated this most delightful of all features of the programme. The sumptuous feast was spread beneath the shade of the oaks, and was enjoyed by the great host of picnickers.

After dinner all the schools sang the old-fashioned tune, "How Firm a Foundation." The annual statistical report was then read, which showed the association to be in a flattering condition.

The installation address, to the incoming officers of the association, was then delivered by Mr. Hoke Smith, in a very impressive man-

Forty-eight schools took part in the singing and contested for the prize banner.

It was one of the most successful celebrations the association ever held, and not one of

It was one of the most successful celebrations the association ever held, and not one of the vast concourse of people who were present but what was delighted with the occasion.

With the singing of "God Be with You Till We Meet Again," the picknickers dispersed. For twenty years Hon. Milton A. Candler has been the president of the association. Yesterday, in speaking of its early history, Mr. Candler said:

"The DeKalb County Sunday School Association was organized in June. 1866, in the Methodist church at Decatur. Among those present were: Rev. W. H. Clarke, Professor B. T. Hunter, Mr. Z. H. Jones, Mr. Joseph Walker, Dr. T. T. Key, Mr. G. A. Ramspeck, the present secretary and myself.

"The association started with six schools, and it now has forty-eight, with a membership of about thirty-five hundred. Rev. W. H. Clarke was the first president of the association. The association was the conception of Professor Hunter, and through his efforts was organized, and as the association in DeKalb county was the first organization of that character in the state, embracing an entire county and operating under a regular constitution and by-laws, to the efforts of Professor Hunter is due much that has been accomplished by the Sunday schools throughout the state, and the pleasure that has been given the scholars in participating in the celebrations. Since the formation of the association, every year a celebration has been held, and nothing has ever occurred to mar the pleasant relations existing between all the schools."

President Candler's devotion to the associaresident Candler's devotion to the associa-tion and to Sunday school work has been often illustrated by the fact that on one occa-sion he failed to attend a congressional con-vention at which he received the nomination, because it conflicted with the celebration of

The DeKalb association has always ranked with the first in the states, and at its celebra-tions such distinguished men as Dr. Mallard, of New Orleans, have addressed the schools.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET. The Day on the Floor of the New York Stock Exchange.

Exchange.

NEW YORK, July 2.—The Bank of England this morning further reduced its minimum rate of discount to 2½ per cent, but action, even in the absence of news of an unfavorable character, failed to stimulate trading in the stock market here for either domestic or foreign operators, and it seems to have again failen into its old rut of extreme duliness and stagnation, Outside of Industrials there was at no time any decided tendency in prices in either direction, while the cided tendency in prices in either direction, while the stocks which made any approach to animation num-bered only about a half dozen. The market displayed bered only about a half dozen. The market displayed a drooping tendency among the leading shares toward the close, but the close was generally steady and decidedly dull to first prices. The final changes, owing to the opening losses, are generally small losses, and Tennessee Coal is down 1½ per cent. Sales of listed stock, 88,000 shares; uniisted, 6,000 shares.

Exchange quiet and weak at 486@488; commercial bills 484%@486%.

Cahn & Co.'s Stock Letter. NEW YORK, July 2.—The Bank of England rate was reduced 2½ per cent, and money in the open market was reported to be practically unloanable. Notwithstanding this, Europeans were sellers of our stocks, but only to a moderate extent. The short interest, which had been made in the market, has been covered which had been made in the market, has been covered up in the last few days, and it seems as if the short interest abroad had also been liquidated. The market here was extremely dull and inclined to weakness. The traders who had covered up again put out a few stocks, but traded in a very cautious manner, as they have been taught a very expensive lesson of late. The arreaching holiday also interfered with trade. The arket was, if anything, slightly better, de-

Hubbard, Price & Co.'s Circular.

NEW YORK, July 2.—(Special.)—Sales in Liverpool on the spot were 10,000 bales, but futures were 4-5id lower, closing steady. The decline is attributed to the insufficiency of the advance yesterday in our market and cables from this side predicting that the government report on the 10th instant would show a condition of 30, against 31 4-10 last year and 85 7-10 last month. Here the market, after an initial drop of some 865 noins, became quiet, and the close was steady at 6@6 points, became quiet, and the close was steady at about opening prices. The fluctuations have been in-significant, and most operators are evidently indisposed to assume any important obligations until after the holidays. Rains continue general throughout the south and the fear of drouth seems now entirely dissi-Rather more inquiry is reported for spot cot-re, but as yet no sales have resulted.

Lehman Bros.' Cotton Letter.

NEW YORK, July 2—Liverpool this morning was again very disappointing, showing a decline of 3-54d, resulting in our market giving way about 6 points, at which values held steady, fluctuating but a few points to the close. Crop advices are all favorable.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Features of the Speculative Movement in Grain and Provisions.

CHICAGO, July 2. — Wheat opened nervous and higher. The buoyagoy developed at the close yesterday and disquieting rumors as to impending manipulation, together with higher public cables, gave the market a strong send-off, and during the early trading July sold as high as $4c and December at $0\cdot\(\frac{1}{2}\)\cdo\(\frac{1}{2}\)\cdot\(\frac{1}{2}\)\cdot\(\frac{1}{2}\)\cdot\(\fr in getting their deals about evened up. It cost some money, however; as, in the process, July was put up to 94%c and December to 92c. There was a reaction to 94%c and December to 92c. There was a reaction near the close, which was at 9314@33½c for July and 91½c for December. Corn was excited and higher at the start. The shorts showed a good deal of nervousness, especially in July, and were anxious buyers, while there was little for and were anxious buyers, while there was little for sale. In the early scramble July sold as high as 575c, and not much to be had even at that. There did not appear to be any leaders in the bull movement, but everybody seemed to be short more or less and frantic to cover, while little was offered for sale. September to cover, while little was offered for sale. September sold up on the early excitement to 51½651½c split, then came the tumble in wheat; and, the most nervous shorts having bought what they wanted, prices started down. This brought out corn, and for a time it was a race to see who could sell the most in a given time, and July finally got to 55½c and September to 60½c. Moderate car lists for tomorrow and the reaction in wheat finally carried July back to 55½c and September to 61½c. There was an active demand for cash ber to 5116c. There was an active demand for cash corn, which sold to 60%c and nearly 9c premium on September and 3½c over seller month. The close was steady at 56½c for July and 51½c for September.

ons opened strong and higher, influenced by grain, but later, on large stocks, more hogs than esti-mated and the break in corn and wheat, all products declined. September pork sold early at $10.55@10.55b broke to $10.35, and on the final bulge in grain rallied to $10.57½, closing at $10.55.

Lard and ribs followed the same general course.

on Bros. & Co.'s Grain Letter. CHICAGO, July 2.—Today closes one of the hardest days for traders and commission merchants that they have experienced for a long while. The wheat pit has acted more like a storage house for fireworks on fire than a commercial emporium, the trade being in so many months for future delivery that at times the market would advance le per bushel for one month without being able to make a trade in some others. At one time December jumped from 90c to 90%c, with scarcely a trade whatever between the two figures, and scarcely a trade whatever between the two figures, and orders to buy or to sell July or August were impossible to execute at times, when the market was excited. The continued fine crop prospects, the rapid progress of harvest and threshing causes almost all traders to feel very weak whenever the market shows any signs of a decline, but there have been large lines of wheat bought for export, and there were unquestionably large lines sold short for future delivery by local speculators and those residing in the winter wheat regions, and the attempt to protect their contracts was the and the attempt to protect their contracts was the principal cause of the advance. Reports of the bad spare at fair prices, notwithstanding our immen The demand for cash corn continues in excess of the rne demand to cash cort continues in excess of the supply, the price ranging from 3c to 8c above the con-tract price of July and September, yet there are plenty of people who sell September short, expecting to reap The trade in oats was light. There were some cash condition of the Russian crop continue, and the advance of wheat in all the markets abroad is an indication that they will want all the wheat that we have to lots offered at a slight advance over July. The trade in provisions is extremely dull, dealers giving most of their attention to grain. The publication of stocks is considered by some to be quite beartion of stocks is considered by some to be quite bear-ish, but it is found upon figuring the report that there has been a decrease of nearly ten million pounds in the hog product in the month of June. The receipts of hogs were about 800,000 less since March than they were for the same time last year; 800,000 hogs would make at least 100,000,000 pounds of hog product. Reports from all middle and eastern states indicate that they are bare of hogs.

AND OF THE WORLD. THE CALCULATION MADE BY REV. E. R. CARSWELL

by the Advance Sheets of His Sook-His Conclusions Concerning that Most Important Event.

"Jesus at Our Doors; or, His Early Coming," is the title of a highly interesting vol-ume which will, in a few days, be issued from THE CONSTITUTION job office. The author of the work is Rev. E. R. Cars-well, the well-known evangelist, and as its title indicates the book is an elaborate pretation of Dr. Carswell's views upon the sec and coming of Christ. Some time ago, Dr. Carswell created a sen-one sunrage, Dien by a sermon on this subject preached Douglasville. The gist of that sermon was at Douglasville. The gist of that sermon was printed in THE CONSTITUTION and was widely read. No little interest will, therefore, be felt in the forthcoming book.

Dr. Carswell's dedication is unique. It is: Dr. Carswell's dedication is unique. It is:
First of all and above all, to my Lord Jesus Christ, who hath graciously redeemed me, and xom I expect soon to greet; to the memory of my dear father, whose wise and loving counsels live with me yet, though he has just gone on before; to all faithful ministers of our Lord, Zion's watchmen, whose sympathy and co-operation I crave in warning the world; to all true believers in desus scattered abroad over the earth, all of whom liove in the truth, and whom I confidently expect wisely and profitably to receive my message; and maily, to all such as snall believe and enter into life before "the door is shut," this little rolume is reverently and affectionately dedicated by the author.

The author, on the title page, speakes of him-E. R. Carswell, editor of The Review and Expositor, Atlanta, Ga., doctrinal and revival evangelist and student of God's re-aled will.' Dr. Carswell treats first of the manner of the Lord's coming, contending that He will come n actual person. The same body that hung bleeding to the cross will once more be maniested to the dwellers of earth. The admonition "Behold, I come quickly!" is taken as literal, and the writer contends that "as the lightning cometh out of the east and shineth even unto the west, so shall also the coming of the Son of Man be."

The Order of Events.

He next takes up what he terms "the order of events." Since discovering this, he says, the Bible has been an illuminated book indeed to him. He presents that order in the following tabulated form:

BEFORE MILLENNIUM.

1. First resurrection—of the righteous only.

2. The living righteous changed.

3. Both these—all the righteous—meet the Lord for the air.

4. The fire flood to destroy the living wicked.

5. Satan bound for 1,000 years.

MILLENNUM.

Judgment of righteous for reward—only the righteous on the earth—1,000 literal years.

ngareous on the earth—1,009 literal years.
AFTER MILLENNIUM.

1. Second resurrection—of all the lost.
2. Satan locsed for a little season.
3. The great last battle.
4. The final judgment—of wicked men and fallen ingels.

5. The kingdom of the Christ delivered to the

These he takes up in detail, discussing each and expressing his views on each. Passing down to the fourth before millenium he says.

The earth is to furnish the fire to avenge God of The earth is to furnish the fire to avenge God of the wicked in the terrible twilight of this dispensation. It is literally stored with fire. God has been using volcanic eruptions all along to crack the shell, which is effectually done by more than two million volcances, all occurring along what the physical geographics call, as if in terms inspired, "zones of fracture," or breakage. And when He is ready to flood the earth with fire, as once he did with water, He will only need to smite the granite ribs of the earth with the scepter of His newer, when 2,000,000 volcanoes will belch forth heir infuriate fires, discograing all their infamable gases and explosive chemicals, which, to can waves of flame, will add electrical influences and dynamite terror, that, combined, shall sweep the earth of every vestige of life.

These fires having wrought their predestined

weep the earth of every vestige of life.

These fires having wrought their predestined destruction and having remolded and refashioned the entire physical features of the earth, as they recede into their cavernous hiding places, will be followed by the seas. These cooling draughts poured into the fiery depths, will cool down earth's fevered heat below carthquake temperature so that the millennium will not be disturbed by earthquake shocks. And then, will be fulfilled the scripture, "And there was no more sea."

Rev. xxi. 1.

Passing down to the subject appreciation.

Passing down to the subject, numerical cal-culation, the reviewer of the book being com-pelled by lack of space to omit even reference to much that will be read with interest, Dr. Carswell states that Professor Totten's calcuation strikes him very favorably, though it tested in this work. He then goes on to fix his own dates in the following:

The Numerical Calculation. The First event was the "command to restore and to build Jerusalem," which was actually published in Nisan (April) of 445 B. C. The Second event, the crucifixion of Christ, was ixed by this prophecy 483 years (69 weeks of years 60X7) after the date of the First event, or 483 years counting from 445 B. C., which takes us to 38 A. D., as the date of the death of Christ (Dan. 1x: 26). This harmonizes with the views of leading expo of our A. D. chronology, that it is at least four to six years wrong. This allows for a correction by four and one-half years. So that Messiah was "cut off" in the month of April (Nisan) A. D. 38.

The Third event, or the "Cleansing of the Sanctuary," (Dan. VIII: 24) was set for 2,300 years from the same prime date, 445 B. C. This takes us to 1856 A. D. And it was on April 11, 1856, that the Crimean treaty of peace was signed, securing religious liberty to Jews and Christians in Palestine for the first time since Mohammedanism invested Jerusalem, 1,200 years before. This was the incheate cleaning of the sanctuary—or the holy city and temple. The 2,300 years of prophecy were completed to a day in this significant event. The Fourth event, or the end of this dispensa-tion, when "all these things shall be finished," is fixed forty-five years after the last event. Dan XII, 7-12. The forty-five years are the excess of the 1335 over 1290. The 1290 are the last of the 2300, and the 1335 are gained by adding 45 to 1290. By adding forty-five years to April 11, 1856, we come to April 11, 1901, as the end of this age 1290. By adding forty-five years to April 11, 1896, we come to April 11, 1901, as the end of this age and the opening of the next.

And now, if the application of this calculation to this last of the four events has been as accurately made as to the former three (which I believe, but would not positively assert), the close of this gospel age and opening of the millennial age will come on April 11, 1901.

As three out of four have come to pass precisely on the date indicated by the prophetic numerals, it is but rational to conclude that the Fourth event—the end of this age—will fall on its date. And if this final date—April 11, 1901—be correct, 2,345 days before its arrival may be expected an order to rebuild the temple, which, according to the calculation, will be November 8, 1894, or three years from next November.

Here is another prophetic double. It was to be 2,300 plus 45 years from the first command to restore and to build Jerusalem to the end of this age; and 2,300 plus 45 days from the second order to rebuild the temple (yet future) to the same concluding date—the end of this age.

An fulfilment of the 2345, in years and in days. And of this last come true, then just as it was 483 years from the second order to rebuild the eity and this last come true, then just as it was 483 years from the second order to restore the temple (yet future) to the same concluding date—the end of this age.

An fulfilment of the 2345, in years and in days. And of this last come true, then just as it was 483 years from the second order to restore the temple (yet occome) to the second coming of Jesus—this time without a sin-offering, as at the tumple (yet occome) to the second coming of Jesus—this time without a sin-offering, as at the tumple (yet occome) to the second coming of Jesus—this time without a sin-offering, as at the tumple (yet to come) to the second coming of Jesus—this time without a sin-offering, as at the tumple (yet occome) to the second coming of Jesus—this time without a sin-offering in the mids of the last the order to rebuild the temple may be expected to be published. November 8, 1894; the coming of Jesus in the air for the righteeus, dead and living, March 5, 1896; and this age will give place to the next, or miliennial age, April 11, 1891. These are the most probable dates.

one disastrous result. Rev. Frank L. Stevens, a brilliant young minister who has been taking a post-graduate course at the Yale divinity school, was committed to the Hartford insane retreat a few days ago, a hopeless maniac. He fell in with Lieutenant Totten, with whom he soon became very intimate. He shortly became the most sincere disciple of Totten's millennium theories. The proximity of the world's end was too much for his brain, and he has slowly but surely lost his mind.

Mr. Stevens's insane idea is that he is the Redeemer, who Lieutenant Totten predicts will soon reappear on the earth. The Force of Habit. Habit, so said, is second nature, but not necessarily true. We all admit that certain habits are quite strong and very hard to overcome. So much so that sometimes it seems impossible to break them. But with a proper amount of determination and perseverence few, indeed, will fail. Habit sometimes becomes a disease. Then you need becomes a disease. Then you need help. Lack of exercise, improper living, excessive help. Lack of exercise, improper living, excessive indulgences, etc., often iproduce habitualiconstipation, and following this piles, fistula or some disease of the bowels which makes it necessary for you to have professional services. It is not only unnecessary for you to continuously take medicine, but it is decidedly injurious. Remove the effect and then treat the cause in a commonsense way and a cure will result. It takes time to do this, but if you persevere you will be fully repaid for the effort.

Many ladies suffering in this way become the victims of serious uterine diseases. This should not be, nor is it at all necessary, for if you will give me the opportunity I can cure you. My experience is large. In fact, I have given the best years of my life to the study of these troubles, etc. Does my experience entitle me to your consideration?

STATE,

Dr. Carswell's dedication is unique. It is:
First of all and above all, to my Lord Jesus Christ, who hath graciously redeemed me, and zon I expect soon to greet; to the memory of my dear father, whose wise and loving counsels
tive with me yet, though he has just gone on before; to all faithful ministers of our Lord, Zion's watchmen, whose sympathy and co-operation I erave in warning the world; to all true believers in Jesus castered abroad over the earth, all of whom I love in the truth, and whom I confidently super wisely and profitably to receive my messape; and finally, to all such as snall believe and enter into life before "the door is shut," this little volume is reverently and affectionately dedicated by the author. dy Boulevard lot.

in the forthcoming book.

Dr. Carswell treats first of the manner of the Lord's coming, contending that He will come in actual person. The same body that hung ding to the cross will once more be man fested to the dwellers of earth. The admotion "Behold, I come quickly!" is taken as literal, and the writer contends that "as the lightning cometh out of the east and shineth even unto the west, so shall also the coming of the Son of Man be."

The Order of Events. He next takes up what he terms "the order of events." Since discovering this, he says, the Bible has been an illuminated book indeed to him. He presents that order in the following tabulated form: Before MILLENNIUM.

1. First resurrection—of the righteous only.

2. The living righteous changed.

3. Both these—all the righteous—meet the Lord.

3. Both these-states of the first state of the state of the first stat

These he takes up in detail, discussing each

These he takes up in detail, discussing each and expressing his views on each. Passing down to the fourth before millenium he says:

The earth is to furnish the fire to avenge God of the wicked in the terrible twilight of this dispensation. It is literally stored with fire. God has been using volcanic eruptions all along to crack the shell, which is effectually done by more than two million volcanoes, all occurring along what the physical geographies call, as if in terms inspired, "zones of fracture," or breakage. And when he is ready to flood the earth with fire, as once he did with water, He will only need to smite the granite ribs of the earth with the scepter of His lower, when 2,000,000 volcanoes will belch forth heir infuriate fires, discorging all their inflamable gases and explosive chemicals, which, to ean waves of flame, will add electrical influences and dynamite terror, that, combined, shall sweep the earth of every vestige of life.

weep the earth of every vestige of life.

These fires having wrought their predestined destruction and having remolded and refashioned the entire physical features of the earth, as they recede into their cavernous hiding places, will be followed by the seas. These cooling draughts poured into the fiery depths, will cool down earth's fevered heat below carthquake temperatures on that the millennium will not be disturbed by earthquake shocks. And then will be fulfilled the scripture, "And there was no more sea." Rev. xxi, 1.

Rev. xxi, 1.

Passing down to the subject, numerical calsulation, the reviewer of the book being compelled by lack of space to omit even reference to much that will be read with interest, Dr.
Carswell states that Professor Totten's calculation strikes him very favorably, though it has reached him too late to be satisfactorily tested in this work. He then goes on to fix his own dates in the following:

The Numerical Calculation. The Numerical Calculation.

The First event was the "command to restore and to build Jerusalem," which was actually published in Nisan (April) of 445 B. C. The Second event, the crucifixion of Christ, was nxed by this prophecy 483 years (69 weeks of years, 69X7) after the date of the First event, or 483 years ounting from 445 B. C., which takes us to 38 A. D. as the date of the death of Christ (Dan. 1x: 26). This as the date of the death of Christ (Dan. IX: 26). This harmonizes with the views of leading expounders of our A. D. chronology, that it is at least four to six years wrong. This allows for a correction by four and one-half years. So that Messiah was least of the christ of the chris "cut off" in the month of April (Nisan) A. D. 38.

The Third event, or the "Cleansing of the Sanctuary," (Dan. vIII: 24) was set for 2,300 years from the same prime, date, 445 B. C. This takes us to 1856 A. D. And it was on April 11, 1856, that us to 1806 A. D. And it was on April 11, 1856, that the Crimean treaty of peace was signed, securing religious liberty to Jews and Christians in Palestine for the first time since Mohammedanism invested Jerusalem, 1,200 years before. This was the inchoate cleansing of the sanctuary—or the holy city and temple. The 2,300 years of prophecy were completed to a day in this significant event.

The Fourth event, or the end of this dispensation, when "all these things shall be dispensation.

tion, when "all these things shall be finished," is fixed forty-five years after the last event. Dan. XII, 7-12. The forty-five years are the excess of the 1335 over 1990. The 1290 are the last of the 2300, and the 1335 are gained by adding 45 to XII, 7-12. The forty-five years are the excess of the 1335 over 1290. The 1290 are the last of the 2300, and the 1335 are gained by adding 45 to 1290. By adding forty-five years to April 11, 1856, we come to April 11, 1901, as the end of this age and the opening of the mext.

And now, if the application of this calculation to this last of the four events has been as accurately made as to the former three (which I believe, but would not positively assert), the close of this gospel age and opening of the millennial age will come on April 11, 1901.

As three out of four have come to pass precisely on the date indicated by the prophetic numerals, it is but rational to conclude that the Fourth event—the end of this age—will fall on its date. And if this final date—April 11, 1901—be correct, 2.345 days before its arrival may be expected an order to rebuild the temple, which, according to the calculation, will be November 8, 1804, or three years from ext November.

Here is another prophetic double. It was to be 2.300 plus 45 years from the first command to restore and to build Jerusalem to the end of this age; and 2.300 plus 45 days from the second order to rebuild the temple (yet future) to the same concluding date—the end of this age.

A fulfilment of the 2345, in years and in days. And if this last come true, then just as it was 483 years from the former order to rebuild the city and temple to the death of Messiah, so it shall be 483 days from the second coming of Jesus—this time without a sin-offering, as at the tunto final deliverance. This will be March 1866. Another double—the 483 (sixty-nine 1868) fulfilled in years and to be fulfilled in days. In the millied in years and to be fulfilled in days. In the millied in years and to be fulfilled in days. In the millied in open the second order to restore the temple (yet to come) to the second coming of Jesus—this time without a sin-offering, as at the tunto final deliverance. This will be March 1866. Another double—the 483 (sixty-nine 1868) fulfilled in years and to the temple, it seems clear, will be rebuilt at instance of unbelieving Jews, who will reintended of the destruction of anti-Christ and of sixths of its Magogian confederacy upon the untains of Jerusalem, it will be yet forty-five over 1,290 making to the glorious end. "Blessed is be that the and cometh to the thousand three hunand five and thirty days." All who arrive and unharmed to this date participate in all lays of the millennial age.

author wishes to be understood. He does after the millennial age, and assuredly fall upon the dates respectively and assuredly fall upon the dates respectively and assuredly fall upon the dates respectively and applying the figures to the last of all representations of Daniel. But if no mistake has in applying the figures to the last of at events suspended upon the calculations of the calculati

the order to rebuild the temple may be expected to be published November 8, 1894; the coming of Jesus in the air for the righteous, dead and living, March 5, 1896; and this age will give place to the next, or millennial age, April 11, 1891. These are the most probable dates.

school, was committed to the Hartford insane retreat a few days ago, a hopeless maniac.

He fell in with Lieutenant Totten, with whom he soon became very intimate. He shortly became the most sincere disciple of Totten's millennium theories. The proximity of the world's end was too much for his brain, and he has slowly but surely lost his mind.

Mr. Stevens's insane idea is that he is the Redeemer, who Lieutenant Totten predicts will soon reappear on the earth. He had been tationed at Southington, Conn., but last week was called to Brooklyn to supply a church there. The Force of Habit. Habit, so said, is second nature, but not neces sarily true. We all admit that certain habits are quite strong and very hard to overcome. So much so that sometimes it seems impossible to break so that sometimes it seems impossible to break them. But with a proper amount of determina-tion and perseverence few, indeed, will fail. Habit sometimes becomes a disease. Then you need help. Lack of exercise, improper living, excessive indulgences, etc., often iproduce habitualiconsti-pation, and following this piles, fistula or some disease of the bowels which makes it necessary for you to have professional services. It is not only unnecessary for you to continuously take medicine, but it is decidedly injurious. Remove the effect and then treat the cause in a common-medicine, but it is decidedly injurious. Remove the effect and then treat the cause in a commonsense way and a cure will result. It takes time to do this, but if you persevere you will be fully repaid for the effort.

Many ladies suffering in this way become the victims of serious uterine diseases. This should not be, nor is it at all necessary, for if you will give me the opportunity I can cure you. My experience is large. In fact, I have given the best years of my life to the study of these troubles, etc. Does my experience entitle me to your consideration?

FULTON ALLIANCE

ELECTED ITS OFFICERS YESTERDAY

Its Delegate to the Convention Goes Unin structed—A Committee to Entertain Alliance Visitors.

The Fulton County Alliance held its regular quarterly meeting yesterday at the Rock Spring church. There were about three hundred delegates present, and, in addition to these, a number of ladies and children. Mrs. Governor Northen was present The most important business of the day was the election of officers for the next year. The election resulted as follows: Presideut, S. M. Taliaferro.

Vice president, Dr. J. W. Nelms. Secretary, J. F. Nabell. A delegate was elected to represent the county alliance in the state alliance convention.

Dr. J. W. Stone was chosen. There was considerable discussion over the matter of giving instructions, but it was finally decided that Dr. Stone go entirely uninstructed. A reception committee was appointed, five ladies and ten gentlemen, to take care of the distinguished alliance visitors to be here at the grand rally on the 15th.

The ladies of the committee are Mrs. S. M. Taliaferro, Mrs. Dr. E. Griffin, Mrs. Dr. J. W. Nelms, Mrs. Captain Leddell and Mrs.

A resolution was passed congratulating Dr. Griffin, the county physician, upon the result Griffin, the county physician, upon the result of the investigation by the county commissioners in the Ozburn matter.

Just before dinner assistant commissioner of agriculture, Dr. J. B. Hunnicutt, was called upon for a talk. He responded in his happiest vein, and a rousing resolution of thanks was given him for the speech.

The dinner was barbecued to perfection, with the best of everything there and more than enough.

The next quarterly meeting will be held at

The only other matter of importance to come up was a resolution about the Brown-Burgess These two alliance editors, it will be remembered, have been using some very vigorous language. The "lie" was passed, and two or three cards by each were bristling with objectionable epithets.

The resolution was to condemn such conduct.

After some discussion the resolution was tabled; the whole matter being referred to the suballiance having immediate authority.

The Georgia Code Revised.

In the form of what is called "Georgia Code Slips," prepared by Robert Zahner, of the Atlanta bar, Harrison & Co. publish what may properly be termed a revision of the Georgia code. Almost ten years have passed since the present edition of the code was issued, and many provisions have been repealed, amended, superseded, or in some way modified. There has also been legislation on subjects entirely new to the code. The result is when a lawyer or business man opens his code, he does not new to the code. The result is when a lawyer or business man opens his code, he does not know whether he has the law before him or not; to be certain he must search through seven other volumes, the indexes to which are very imperfect. But the code slips by reference incorporate into the code all laws of a general nature; they revise the code to date. The slips are a large sheet perforated and gummed on one side like a sheet of postage stamps, each slip, however, being much smaller than a postage stamp. They are stuck on the margin of the code, opposite the sections affected, and tell just what has been done with the law and where the new legislation is to be found. An office boy can insart the slips to be found. An office boy can insert the slips in a little while, and they do not visibly in-crease the thickness of the volume. There are about six hundred references—one to about every eight sections of the code. Lawyers especially appreciate this publication, as it saves them much time and relieves them of all uncertainty. Honest Doctors

Dr. J. W. Rhodes, Crawfordville, Ga., writes: "I confess B. B. B. is the best and quickest medicine for rheumatism I have ever tried."

Dr. S. J. Farmer, Crawfordville, Ga., writes: "I cheerfully recommend B. B. B. as a fine tonic alterative. Its use cured an excrescence of the neck after other remedies effected no perceptible good."

Dr. C. H. Montgomery, Jacksonville, Ala., writes: "My mother Insisted on my getting B. B. B. for her rheumatism, as her case stubbornly resisted the usual remedies. She experienced immediate relief, and her improvement has been truly wonderful."

Dr. G. W. Earle, Pickens, S. C., writes: "I recommended B. B. B. to a man who had suffered for years with a malignant ulcer on his leg, that seemed to resist all other treatment. After using four or five bottles the ulcer began to heal, and his leg is now sound and well."

As the heated term approaches this question oc-cupies the minds of the public, and to aid our readers in deciding it, we propose in a brief article to give a few pointers as to the resorts reached by the picturesque Baltimore and Ohio railroad. Leaving Cincinnati via the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern railroad, a journey of a day, or a night, brings the traveler to the summit of the Alleghanies where Oakland, Mountain Lake Park and Deer Park are located. Deer Park is a layorite spot for statesmen and men noted in science and literature. It was there that ex-President Cleveland took his bride, and President Harrison located his summer capital. The nights are always summer capital. and Deer Park are located. Deer Park is a favority

Aside from its his-toric interest, in this valley are located an innumerable chain of springs of variable medicinal and merable chain of springs of variable medicinal and chemical qualities, which combined with the pure air of the mountains, the beautiful scenery and the comforts of the hotels, leaves little for the invalid or the pleasure hunter to wish for. The principal of these springs are Berkeley, Capon, Orkney, Rawley, Stribling and Rockbridge baths, also the wonderful Luray Caverns.

Atlantic City, Long Branch and other ocean beaches on the New Jersey coast are easily reached by direct rail connections with the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, while Bar Harbor, the White mountains and other New England resorts are reached Ohio railroad, while Bar Harbor, the White mountains and other New England resorts are reached via the Poughkeepsie Bridge route, the new Boston line of the Baltimore and Ohio, and the only way by which one can reach the farther New England points without a transfer through Boston

HE GREW REMINISCENT,

And Told a Crowd of Romans About Hard Rome, Ga., July 2.—[Special.]—Since the decline in cotton to the lowest point for more than thirty years, it has caused some of the oldest inhabitants to refresh their memories and talk.

Among this honored and intelligent class of citizens, Mr. E. D. Wood is numbered. He has zens, Mr. E. D. Wood is numbered. He has friends and relatives all through north Georgia, and when he relative his experiences in the early 40s, he catches the crowd.

Your correspondent was a willing listener recently when the present low price of cotton and hard times generally were discussed.

To the question: "Mr. Wood, can't you tell us some of your experience, as you say these times are not as hard as you have seen?"

"Well, yes, I can, and will begin by stating that from 1840 to 1845 it was a hard time in money matters, and labor and produce were at bottom prices, sure enough. Beats these times all to pieces."

prices, sure enough. Beats these times all to pieces."

"How was the price of cotton, compared to the present? If lower, how much lower?"

"I was living in Decatur, Ga., at the time spoken of, selling goods and buying cotton, and the ruling price was about 4 cents per pound, and even at those figures we sometimes lost money."

"How were the prices on other articles, labor, etc.?"

Able-bodied white men were hired at $37.50 per annum, or a little over three dollars per month and board. Negro men were hired at $50 and board and clothes, the latter costing very little, as I bought first quality brogans at 50 cents per pair in case lots and other things in proportion."
